HENRY BREAM NEW HEAD OF LOCAL CHEST

Henry T. Bream, who was chairman of the fund campaign conducted by the Gettysburg Community Chest last fall, was elected as the Chest's new president at the organization's annual meeting Wednesday evening at the West St. bank. He succeeds Dr. W. E. Tilberg who presided during the early part of Wednesday's meeting.

Robert Taylor, of Carlisle, was elected secretary and the Gettysburg National Bank was elected treasurer under a new plan under which that office will rotate between the two local banks from year to year.

Bream and Jacob C. Britcher were elected members of the Chest's board of directors succeeding Dr. Joseph Riley and William A. Lentz, whose terms expired.

HARTLEY ON BOARD

Richard Hartley was elected to serve out the unexpired term of Dr. Seymour B. Dunn on the board of directors and the following were re-elected for a three-year term: Mrs. Willard S. Paul, Dean Tilberg, Dr. Bruce N. Wolff, Atty. Charles W. Wolf and Mrs. Philip Jones.

Mrs. Mildred Werley, Gettysburg R. 1, was introduced as the Chest's new part-time office secretary.

With representatives of member agencies in attendance, annual reports were presented and the election was held following presentation of the report of the nominating committee by Mrs. Jones.

MAY CHANGE NAME

The group discussed a proposal to change the name from Community Chest to United Fund and finally referred the matter to the

Kennedy Asks Congress For Special Civil Rights Program

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy appealed to a divided Congress today to reinforce the Negro's right to vote and to attend desegregated schools in a nation where he said "the cruel disease of discrimination" still exists nearly everywhere.

For the first time, in a special message, Kennedy outlined a specific civil rights program to Congress. In addition to legislation directed at the ballot and the school house, he asked for an extension of the life of the Civil Rights Commission, with expanded duties.

"The program outlined in this message," Kennedy said, "should not provide the occasion for sectional bitterness."

FEAR FILIBUSTER

Yet White House officials told reporters they recognize the built-in possibilities of a filibuster by Southerners in a Senate which has just rejected a bid to clamp down on filibustering. They said, though, that the program was tailored in realistic style, that it ought to be passed, and there is a good chance it will.

In the century since Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation, the President's message said, slavery has vanished but progress for the Negro has been blocked and delayed too often.

Kennedy credited his administration with a sparkling two-year record on civil rights. But he said a broad national effort still is

HOLD PRICE RITES

Funeral services for John Cleveland Price, 68, Taneytown, who died Tuesday morning at the University Hospital, Baltimore, were held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Fuss Funeral Home, Taneytown, with the Rev. Howard W. Miller, officiating. Interment was in the Lutheran Church Cemetery. Pallbearers were Merle Devibiss, Arthur Garvin Jr., Ralph Kelly, Truman Hahn, Norman Baumgardner and Roland Reaver.

WILL CLOSE DUMP

The Caledonia dump on Michaux forest land will be closed March 1. District Forester William F. Vanidestine has notified some 200 year-round and summer residents leasing state property in the area that open dumping or refuse will cease Friday. The dump is located southwest of the Caledonia golf course and west of the New Baltimore road.

Congress Asked For A Lincoln Half Dollar

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sens. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., and Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., proposed today the coinage of special 50-cent pieces to commemorate the 100th anniversary of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address.

Under the terms of their bill, the coins would be of standard size and weight with the Civil War Centennial Commission authorized to dispose of them and use the proceeds for the observance of the centennial.

DIRECT BOOK SERVICE WILL BEGIN MAR. 2

On Saturday the Adams County Public Library will begin its service to county residents.

"This service is part of the continuing expansion and growth of the library and is designed to provide library services for those who find it difficult to go to the main library," Joseph Dobransky, extension coordinator for the library, said.

Forty-four stops will be visited on a two-week schedule with each community to be visited at the same hour on each circuit.

In order to provide every member of the family with library materials, the bookmobile will carry a collection of 3,000 books, both adult and children. It will also make available to its borrowers the resources of the central library here through a free request service.

SERVICE IS FREE

Any resident of the county may use this new bookmobile service free of charge and any present library user may borrow from either the bookmobile or the central library.

The library's second bookmobile will be used for this service with its other bookmobile continuing regular service to public and parochial schools throughout the county. The new bookmobile service is being financed by federal funds under legislation providing for rural library demonstration projects.

The first day's schedule announced for Saturday will take the bookmobile to Mummaburg at

More Bequests In Quintin Rebert Will

Additional bequests under the will of the late Quintin D. Rebert, Littlestown, filed in the courthouse several days ago include $3,000 each to Hugh Q. Rebert, Atlee F. Rebert and Vida A. Codori; $1,875 to C. Brainard Gross; $1,000 each to Mrs. Adele Gross, Charles A. Bixler and Miss Mary Keiser; $100 each to Mrs. Belle Rigdon and Mrs. Elizabeth Conover.

The will also provides for a $15,000 trust fund for Atlee F. Rebert and Vida A. Codori and their children. The remainder of the estate is to be divided equally among Hugh Q. C. Brainard, Atlee F. Rebert and Vida Codori.

TO ATTEND VIEWING

Members of the Gettysburg Fire Company have been asked to meet at the engine house at 7 o'clock this evening to go in a body to the Bender Funeral Home for the viewing for Bert W. Hummer, for many years an active member of the local company.

British, U.S. Push Plans To Create Missile Firing (Polaris) Submarine Force

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy's Polaris boss said today British-U.S. negotiators have made enormous strides in working out arrangements for creating a British missile firing submarine force.

The talks should be wrapped up in about a week or 10 days, Rear Adm. Ignatius J. Galantin told The Associated Press.

Galantin, a principal figure in the talks, disclosed that British naval experts had started out with the idea that they could save money by building smaller subs with fewer missiles than the American version.

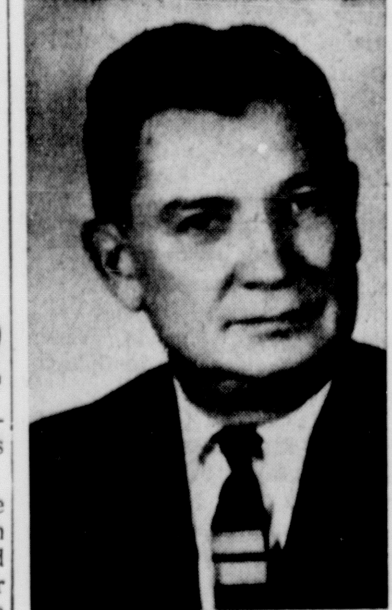

But, Galantin said, "we were able to point out to the British" that they could save only about 5 per cent of the cost by limiting their submarines to eight Polaris missiles rather than 16.

PLAN SERVICE FOR CHILDREN

The program for the children's service on World Day of Prayer was announced today by Mrs. Earl Shears and Mrs. Donald Harper, who are in charge. The service for children will be held at 4 p.m. Friday in fellowship hall of the Memorial EUB Church.

The service for adults will be held at 2 p.m. in the Prince of Peace Episcopal Church.

Children of various churches of the town will take part in the 4 p.m. service. Elaine Lewis of the Baptist Church will give the call to worship and this St. James Lutheran Church group will offer the prayer: Randy Phiel, Leslie Orner, George Sheffer and Thomas Carr. Scripture will be read by Sherry Harmon of the Presbyterian Church. There will be a poem by Linda Shindler of the United Church of Christ.

There will be a piano solo by Charles Sterner of the Memorial EUB Church and Fred Plank of the same church will give the prayer of dedication. A group of Junior children directed by Miss Evadell Crider of the EUB Church will present special music titled "We Want All the Children to Know."

Mrs. Harper will tell the story "The Long Rope" and there will be a film titled "Sunday Around the World." Prayer will be offered by Lisa Wentz of the Christ Lutheran Church.

28 Governors Invited To Attend Local Centennial

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Scranton invited the governors of 28 states which had troops at the Battle of Gettysburg to participate in the centennial celebration of that Civil War encounter July 1-4.

"The purpose of the invitations is to provide a fitting opportunity for each governor to come to Pennsylvania and pay tribute to the valiant sons of his state who fought on Pennsylvania's soil 100 years ago," Scranton said Wednesday.

Invited were the governors of Alabama, Arkansas, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

253 FARMS IN FEED-GRAIN '63 PROGRAM

As of Wednesday, 253 farms in Adams County had been signed up for participation in the 1963 feed grain program, J. Glen Miller, office manager for the agricultural stabilization and conservation county committee, announced.

County farms eligible to be included in the program total 2,289. "Eligible" farms are those which grew one or more of the three feed grains — corn, grain sorghum or barley — during the program's base years 1959 and 1960.

Feed grain acreage signed up for participation through the program now totals 4,004.6 acres, including 3,777.1 acres of corn, five acres of grain sorghum and 222.5 acres of barley. Feed grain base acreages of these participating farms amount to 6,507 acres.

Based upon farmers' intentions, as recorded at the ASCS county office, these producers will earn an estimated $127,576.08 for participating in the feed grain program this year.

URGES PROMPT ACTION

Mr. Miller said the 1963 feed grain program offers farmers an opportunity to continue the progress chalked up during the last two years in balancing supplies with estimated needs. At the same time, the program payments give participants a substantial return from their acreage in which they have a heavy investment.

Under the program, a grower who reduces his feed grain acre-

SELL TICKETS FOR CONCERT

At a recent meeting of the executive committee of the Band Parents' Club of the Gettysburg Joint School system plans were made to sponsor a contest for the sale of tickets for the concert by the Penn State Concert Blue Band at Gettysburg High School, March 21 at 8 p.m.

Students in the Junior and Senior Bands and any other student in the junior and senior high school may join in the contest which will award a $10 first prize to the highest salesman, a $7 second prize and a $3 third prize.

The contest will end on Monday, March 18. After this, tickets will be available at the door or from any member of the bands if an order is placed. Admission price for students is 75 cents if bought in advance and $1 for adults. All tickets sold at the door will be $1.

Mrs. David Deitch, housing chairman, is securing volunteers to help with the housing of the visiting bandsmen. Any Penn State alumnus or other person who wishes to help with this project may contact Mrs. Deitch at 202 Carlisle St.

The 110-piece concert band from Penn State University is under the direction of James W. Dunlop.

Proceeds from the concert will be used to buy 50 additional uniforms for the 122-piece Junior High School Band.

ATTEND PMA DINNER

H. Earl Pitzer, Aspers, chairman of the Adams County Republican Committee, and Fred G. Pfeffer, state committeeman, attended the annual dinner given by the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association in the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, Philadelphia.

SEEKS DIVORCE

A complaint has been filed at the courthouse in a divorce action by Charles R. Wileman, Gettysburg R. 5, against Josephine L. (Marcum) Wileman, aged 19, Richmond, Va. They were married June 26, 1959, in Millington, Tenn. Wileman alleged indignities since June, 1961.

Four-Day-Old Son Dies This Morning

Terry Lee Kuhn, four-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Kuhn, 239 S. Washington St., died this morning at 3:20 o'clock at the Warner Hospital.

Surviving in addition to the parents are two brothers, Dennis and Robert Jr., at home; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Kuhn, Smithsburg R. 1, Md., and maternal grandmother, Mrs. Lillian Pryor, Lantzburg, Md.

Interment was made in Evergreen Cemetery.

TWO FACULTY MEMBERS WILL GIVE RECITAL

Gettysburg College faculty members, Mrs. Jacob W. Heikkinen, pianist, and R. Henry Ackley, baritone, will present a recital Sunday evening at 8 o'clock in Christ Chapel.

The five-part program will include 12 vocal selections by Mr. Ackley, accompanied by Mrs. Heikkinen, and numerous piano selections.

Mrs. Heikkinen is a graduate of Oberlin Conservatory and currently is studying piano with Alton Jones at Juilliard. She also is studying organ with Clair Coci, New York City.

She has given a number of concerts here and in Canada, where she was accompanist to Tauno Hannikainen, cellist and conductor of the Helsinki City Symphony. She will present piano numbers written by modern Finnish composers. One selection was presented to her by the composer Kuusisto, director of Sibelius Academy, Helsinki. She obtained the numbers during a recent visit to Finland.

Mr. Ackley is a graduate of Western Maryland and Peabody Conservatory, where he studied with Frank Bibb. He has done additional work at Princeton Seminary and Westminster Choir School. He has taught in public and private schools and was at Peabody prior to coming to Gettysburg. He had appeared widely in oratorio and concert work. His selections for the recital are varied and from the standard repertoire.

The public is invited to attend the recital.

8 BHS Students Win Art Honors

Eight students at Biglerville High School will receive certificates of merit for art work submitted in the annual School Art Awards competition sponsored by Scholastic magazine and the work of one will be entered in national competition in New York City, according to Mrs. Mary Ryman, art teacher.

The work of Robert Funt, Ninth Grade, will be among the national finalists. He also will receive a certificate and a gold key award. Miss Marian Giberson and G. Robert Smith, Seniors, also are certificate and gold key winners.

Receiving certificates for their work are Audrey Funt and Connie Trone, Juniors; Pat Thomas and Sharon Young, Ninth Grade, and Rhonda Kime, a Sophomore. Mrs. Ryan said that 14 students from Biglerville High School submitted work for the competition. The work of the winning eight students will be hung in the exhibit in New York City.

Other nominating petitions filed Wednesday afternoon and this morning include: Herbert E. Griest, Gardner R. 1, Republican for supervisor in Huntingdon Twp.; Gerald M. Ebersole, East Berlin R. 1, Republican for school director in Reading Twp., and Raymond F. Leer, York Springs R. 1, Republican for supervisor in Latimore Twp.

March 18 is the deadline for filing nominating petitions.

PITTSBURGH FIRM TO MAP ADAMS COUNTY

The Adams County commissioners Wednesday afternoon awarded a contract for the aerial mapping of Adams County to American Air Survey, Inc., of Pittsburgh, at its bid of $3,795.

The commissioners opened bids for the work last week and listed the Pittsburgh firms' offer as the lowest among five.

The work, which will probably not begin until spring will provide the county with photographic prints made to three scales—one inch for each 400 feet, one inch for 250 feet and one inch for 100 feet.

The aerial maps the county received several years ago from a federal government, made originally for Department of Agriculture purposes, were described as "not adequate" for present requirements. Enlarged photos of villages and other small tracts of land in the county were not available in that set. No date is specified for completion of the work.

MILEAGES INCREASE
The commissioners granted Biglerville borough $529 in county aid.

The commissioners' office today reported that new mileages have been adopted in calculating county aid for nine boroughs and townships in the county and a change

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market shaved some early losses early this afternoon but remained lower.

Declines among key issues generally were fractional and a few small gains appeared on the tape.

Trading was fairly active but had slowed from its opening pace.

Tenacious Woman Clings To Life For 32 Hours In 20-Foot Well, Cold Water

SANGER, Calif. (AP)—A rancher's wife who held out tenaciously for 32 grueling hours while trapped deep in waters of a caved-in well was praised today by her rescuer as "a remarkable woman."

"After we got her out," said constable Hurshel Pigg, "I asked her if she had worried any. She's a remarkable woman. She told me her husband (away buying poultry) would be home in one more day and she could have held out till then."

FELL INTO WELL

Mrs. Arthur Hiscock, 45, left her house Tuesday morning to turn off the motor to a pump before going to work at a seed company.

Earth over a well she didn't know was there collapsed, plunging her into cold water. A ledge was formed by the caving. She dug her arms into it and held on. She looked up. The well's rim was 20 feet above her.

Jacob Appler New Clerk To Commissioners

Jacob G. Appler, 141 E. Broadway, who has been serving as acting chief assessor of Adams County for several weeks, on Friday becomes the new chief clerk to the Adams County commissioners. He succeeds Crosby N. Hartzell, Hillcrest Place, who has been chief clerk for nearly six years.

Hartzell submitted his resignation to the commissioners February 8, it was revealed today, but no announcement was made of the forthcoming change until after Wednesday's meeting of the commissioners.

In his letter of resignation, Hartzell set March 1 as the effective date.

Hartzell receives $5,600. Appler will start at $5,200. He is receiving $4,200 in his present position in the county assessor's office.

Hartzell, who offered to be "of any assistance possible" to his successor, said he is considering "several other offers" and expects to know by Saturday what his plans for the future will be. He came to the courthouse position April 1, 1957, from 21 years as a salesman for the M. A. Hartley Company, electric appliance wholesalers.

RETAINS OLD POST

In addition to his new duties as chief clerk to the commissioners, Appler will continue temporarily as acting chief assessor. There are now several positions vacant in that office. Lloyd Rupp, who was chief assessor, died recently and Henry M. Hersh, a former chief assessor but more recently a clerk, is hospitalized. Appler's position as deputy assessor in charge of occupation taxes also will be up for appointment.

Mr. Appler is a former Adams County treasurer and then served for several years as acting postmaster of Gettysburg.

The six years Hartzell spent in the commissioners' office have been marked by many changes incident to the change of classification of the county, introduction of a Society Security program for county employees in 1957, a retirement system January 1 of this year, the change in the exterior appearance of the courthouse and the extensive shifting of office and vault space on the first floor and in the basement of the county building.

METHODISTS OBSERVE LENT

An evening of preparation for the Lenten season was held Tuesday for families of the Methodist Church here. With the theme of "Conversion Plus," the Commission on Membership and Evangelism presented a film designed to lead Christians to "think in depth" concerning their commitment to Christ in the weeks before Easter.

BLAST ROCKS MISSILE PLANT

POMONA, Calif. (AP)—An explosion and fire rocked a missile test center in the General Dynamics plant in Pomona Wednesday night, injuring 12 employees, several seriously.

D. Cornell, assistant to the president, said the blast occurred while scientists were shock-testing a missile.

The plant is 30 miles east of Los Angeles.

Cause of the explosion was not immediately determined.

The injured were taken to Pomona Valley Hospital in Pomona.

Cornell said the type of missile and the exact nature of the tests were classified and could not be discussed.

The plant is the tactical guided missile division of General Dynamics. It does research, development and production work on the Terrier, Tartar, Redeye and Mauler surface to air missiles.

Cornell said the plant's fire department quickly put out the fire.

"Most of the damage was from the explosion," he said. Buildings adjacent to the test area were not seriously damaged, Cornell said. They are windowless and constructed of reinforced concrete.

JET EXPLODES KILLING NINE

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—A KC135 jet tanker taking off from Eielson Air Force Base exploded over a guard house at an entrance to the field Wednesday night, killing nine persons.

All seven aboard the plane were killed. The other two died when the explosion flattened the guard house and a nearby waiting room.

A witness said that as the plane passed over the guard house, flames appeared and then it exploded.

The four-engined plane veered to the left and crashed about a quarter of a mile from the gate. It smashed into the Alaska Highway, which runs by the base to Fairbanks, 26 miles to the north.

On board the KC135, used to refuel Strategic Air Command bombers in flight, were the pilot, a copilot, a navigator and four technicians. The tanker was on a refueling mission.

Two Taneytown Fires Wednesday

Taneytown firemen were called out Wednesday afternoon to fight their second big barn fire in less than a week.

A barn on the Arthur Montgomery property on the Bert Koonz Rd. was destroyed along with three heifers, a steer, three calves and 10 hogs quartered there. A car, a truck, farm machinery and corn and hay stored in the barn also were lost, Fire Chief Wilbur Miller said.

The firemen remained at the scene until 4:30 p.m. and then returned later in the evening to pour more water on the ruins.

There was no estimate of the damage and Chief Miller said he cannot say what caused the fire.

The Taneytown firemen had put out a chimney fire at 11:10 Wednesday morning at the Michael Dravie residence on the Crosscreek Rd., near Mayberry.

Two pumps and 14 men were sent to the scene. No damage was reported.

Interview Students Here Next Monday

Advantages of employment at the Mechanicsburg Military Supply Activities will be described to Seniors of Gettysburg College on Monday.

Miss Mary Hunter, recruitment representative of the consolidated industrial relations department at Mechanicsburg, will outline the 1962-63 "Career Development Program" at Mechanicsburg and will interview students throughout the day in the college's Student Union Building.

Gettysburg College is among 23 colleges and universities in central and eastern Pennsylvania being visited during the current academic year by representatives of CIRP at Mechanicsburg.

The career development program offers positions with growth possibilities to above-average students. The positions are interesting, complex and varied.

Records Show It; Winter Cold, Snowy

Arendtsville has received much more than its normal amount of snow and experienced a colder than normal winter, according to the February weather report compiled there by Dr. Frank N. Hewetson, observer at the Arendtsville laboratory's weather station.

Snows there have totaled 32 inches this winter. Normal is 18 inches. Dr. Hewetson said, February's average temperature of 21.1 degrees is 10.4 degrees below normal and 6.1 degrees below the figure for last February, he said. The temperature range was from a high of 50 degrees on February 6 to 6 below zero on the 26th. There were four days this month with below zero readings, he said.

Precipitation totaled 1.55 inches and included 13.25 inches of snow. The precipitation total was 1.12 inches below normal and 3.2 inches below last February. Precipitation for the first two months has accumulated to 3.52 inches. That is 2.12 inches below average and 3.59 inches below the total for the comparable period last year.

TEMPERATURE MODERATING IN SOME AREAS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Another mass of arctic air fanned by northerly winds, spread into the northern Midwest today.

But temperatures appeared moderating in much of the eastern third of the nation after Wednesday's severe cold from Maine to northern Florida. Readings were 15 to 25 degrees higher from the lower Mississippi Valley northward through Tennessee and the Ohio Valley into the middle and northern Atlantic region.

It was still chilly in the Southeast but temperatures were much higher than 24 hours earlier in most areas. The cold air dipped southward into northern Florida. Readings were mostly in the 30 or upper 20s, including 28 in Tallahassee, Fla.

BELOW ZERO

As the fresh batch of frigid cold moved across the Canadian border into the northern Midwest, the mercury dropped below zero in many areas. It was -15 in Pellston, Mich.; -9 in Marquette, Mich.; -8 in International Falls, Minn.; and -7 in Eau Claire, Wis.

The cold air was expected to cover most of the north central region and northern sections of the Ohio Valley by tonight and Friday morning.

In New England, the only sub-zero cold readings were in northern Maine, including -6 in Millinocket and -3 in Caribou.

2 CHILDREN DIE IN BLAZE

BURGETTSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Two children perished today in a fire that destroyed a two-story brick building in this Washington County town.

Police said the victims were Ricky Lee Hoberek, 1½, and his six-month-old brother, Donald. They were the children of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoberek.

Mrs. Hoberek and a third child, about four, escaped. The mother and father are separated, officers said, and the children were living with their mother.

Police said Mrs. Hoberek tossed one child into a yard from a second-floor porch, then tried to return to her apartment for the others. However, intense flames prevented her from getting to them, they said.

A woman in the other second-floor apartment also escaped. The two apartments on the first floor are vacant.

Officials could not learn the cause of the blaze.

Pneumonia Fatal To Baby, 2 Months Old

Cynthia E. Peterson, two-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Peterson, R. 6, died of pneumonia Wednesday at 9:29 p.m. at the Warner Hospital where she was admitted at 8:05 p.m.

In addition to her parents she is survived by a brother and two sisters, Diane, Harold and Carol, all at home; paternal grandmother, Mrs. Mary Peterson, Alabama, and maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Green, R. 6.

Graveside services were this afternoon at 3 o'clock in Lincoln Cemetery and were conducted by Rev. Lena Parr.

"TIME IS A FALLACY"

Time is a most deceiving thing . . . it is not partisan . . . it has been said that time and tide . . . wait for no mortal man . . . time is the world's most precious prize . . . once gone it won't return . . . so we should make the most of it . . . striving to live and learn . . . time can't be hurried yet somehow . . . it always tends to fly . . . and then again hangs heavily . . . without a reason why . . . time is a maze of ifs and buts . . . and hard to comprehend . . . beginning then quite suddenly . . . coming to an end . . . to youth it's slow . . . to age it's fast . . . we're slaves who must obey . . . and do the very best we can . . . with every passing day . . . I guess it all depends on what . . . our special case may be . . . for after all is said and done . . . time is a fallacy.

Girl Scout Troop 786 observed International Day Tuesday afternoon at a meeting in Xavier Hall after school. Each girl in Patrol 3 wrote an article on "Our Chances" and members of Patrol 2 presented a skit on China, its climate, clothing and cities. A foreign country was the subject for each girl in Patrol 1. Leaders present were Mrs. John Cordi Jr., Mrs. Hallette Harding and Senior Aide Jane Toomey. Refreshments were served.

HENRY BREAM

new executive committee for study and recommendation. Taylor urged the name change to give the Chest a "new look" in the community, to capitalize on national United Fund publicity and to offer a "more salable package."

The change would not involve membership agencies or change basic operating procedures, he said, but would really be only a change in name with some modernizing revisions of the constitution and bylaws adopted here in 1948.

PRESENTS REPORT

There was a renewal of discussion of a proposal to expand the Community Chest to include all of Adams County but there were opinions expressed that such a move might come better in a few years. There was also a discussion of the possibility of including other agencies in the annual Chest appeal.

Bream presented his report as campaign chairman. He said the goal last fall was $31,670 and $28,500 was raised with the possibility that another $400 may yet be secured. The response in the rural area and the residential drive was "very good" and the special gifts "held their own," Bream said.

Last fall's drive fell short by $1,750 in classified gifts from the local clubs, Mr. Bream said, and added that some means will have to be found in future drives to make up for that loss. He commended the drive chairman and solicitors for having done "a splendid job."

MAKE UP SHORTAGES

Taylor later in the meeting suggested promotion of the payroll deduction plan of giving to the Chest as the best means to overcome the shortages.

It was explained that the five per cent cut being given member agencies in the amounts they are being paid this year is to help make up old shortages brought about by dipping into the next year's funds to pay last year's final quarterly payments. Unless this fall's drive goes over the top another small cut may have to be made in 1964, he said.

The annual financial report was given by John Welshonce, the retiring secretary.

No action was taken on the selection of this fall's campaign chairman.

needed, an effort embracing state and local governments, private citizens and organizations, and the congressional machinery.

THREE BILLS

His requests for legislation are expected to be submitted within 10 days or so as three separate bills.

They fall into these classifications:

1. Education. The main request here was that Congress authorize a program to provide federal know-how and money to push desegregation in public schools in communities which need and seek financial help.

2. Civil Rights Commission. First set up in 1957, the commission goes out of business next November unless Congress acts. Kennedy asked that its life be extended at least four years. And he asked that Congress authorize it to expand into a national clearing house to provide information, advice and technical help to any public or private agency which wants them.

3. Voting rights. Kennedy mentioned this first and gave it more attention than any other of his bids for legislation.

"The right to vote in a free American election," the President said, "is the most powerful and precious right in the world—and it must not be denied on the grounds of race or color."

He recommended, therefore, that priority treatment be granted voting suits in federal courts. He proposed that while the suits are pending federal referees be empowered to pass upon qualifications of would-be voters. (Under present law, referees can be appointed only after a court finds that discrimination exists.)

These two requests—administration officials said each offers an entirely new idea—would apply to both federal and state elections.

British, U.S.

However, he said that Britain would be able to buy the existing shorter range Polaris missiles at production prices without any contribution to the $2 billion already spent by the United States in research and development.

The negotiations have been moving ahead against a background of growing political controversy in Britain over the question of building a costly fleet of Polaris subs to operate under the Union Jack.

It has been estimated four submarines would cost the British $700 million.

E. BERLIN CUBS HOLD BANQUET

The annual Blue and Gold banquet of East Berlin Cub Scout Pack 111 was held Monday evening in the Richard J. Gross VFW Post 8896 for 21 Cub Scouts and their parents. Cub Scoutmaster Frank Chronister and Assistant Arthur Myers were in charge of the program.

Present in addition to Scouts were den mothers Mrs. Frank Chronister, Mrs. Earl Bollinger, Mrs. Archie Hoke and Mrs. Myers. Robert Warner is committee chairman.

Donald Sheffer, post commander, and Luther Smith, institutional representative, told the Scouts of the post's desire to aid in Scout activities.

The following awards were made: Bobcat, Thomas Clingenpeel; First-Year Pin, Michael Shemon; Two-Year Pin and Lions Patch, Archie Hoke Jr.

The Scouts will attend a hockey game in Hershey March 16 and leave the post home at 6 o'clock in the evening.

Members of the Boy Scout Troop 111 will camp out at Camp Tuckahoe this weekend.

H. EARL PITZER

E. Smith of Schuylkill Haven for the anthracite region and J. A. Blackburn of Greensburg for the bituminous region.

W. Roy Cunningham, 55, of Johnstown was reappointed head of the department's oil and gas division.

Smith, 54, replaces James J. Shober and will work out of the Pottsville office. He worked in the Mines Department prior to becoming general manager of the Phoenix Contracting Co., two years ago. In 1953, he served as deputy secretary.

Blackburn, 66, succeeds Michael Voinosky in his new job and will have his office in Harrisburg. For the past 19 years, he has taught Pennsylvania State University extension classes in Burgettstown, Kittanning and Greensburg. He is a former mine superintendent and Armstrong County mine inspector.

HAD HEADED BUREAU

Pitzer, of Aspers, who headed the bureau of highway safety under former Republican Gov. John S. Fine, declined comment on his reported appointment pending "official notification."

Meanwhile, John J. Simonetta of Easton announced he has been dismissed as director of enforcement for the bureau.

Revenue Secretary Theodore B. Smith Jr. hinted at reorganization of the bureau last week with a statement of his views on a more lenient license suspension policy for first offenders.

Orrtanna

MRS. LUTHER WETZEL

ORRTANNA — In order that the Mt. Carmel EUB members can share in 4-C Mission programs beginning Sunday evening on the Orrtanna EUB Charge a change has been made for services at the Mt. Carmel Church for Sunday morning services.

Worship will be held at 10 p.m. with the Women's Society of World Service participating in this program. Sunday School will follow at 11 a.m. The Rev. Alfred Gotwalt, pastor.

Rev. Alfred Gotwalt attended the Lenten retreat of the Pennsylvania and Central Pennsylvania Conferences held in the Wormleysburg EUB Church at Wormleysburg Church Thursday of last week.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Doraldson were Miss Carrie Kittinger, Mrs. Mattie Eichman, Mrs. Charles Kittinger and Lester Tshudy, all of Lancaster.

The Lancaster group also visited with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mickleby, Biglerville R. 2. Mrs. Mickleby, who has been confined to bed since a recent paralytic stroke on her right side, is reported to be somewhat improved.

Mrs. Esther Baker is ill at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Her-ring, R. D.

CUTE DIALING

TOTALED $33

WASHINGTON (AP)—The parents of George Basle were puzzled but proud that somehow he had learned to dial the Weather Bureau for the latest forecasts.

"We thought it was real cute and smart," said his mother, Mrs. George A. Basle. "It was a Sunday he first did it. George was praying so bad for it to snow so he could play in it, and he went over to the phone and dialed the weather all by himself. He thought he was real big."

"My husband was proud, very proud. He was walking around with his chest out. Only 6, and already he can dial the weather. We were amazed he could get it so rapidly all the time, even when the weather was bad."

ALL TOLL CALLS

That first Sunday, George called the weather nine times. By Feb. 10 he had called the weather 42 times. Then the Basles received their telephone bill. Surprise, it came to $33 for toll calls. Why? George's calls all had been to the Weather Bureau in New York City.

Instead of dialing 9361212 for the recorded Washington weather forecast he had, in each of the 42 calls, prefaced the number with 212, the New York City area code for distance dialing. But everything turned out good

PLAN BATTLE OBSERVANCE

A tentative week-long program which ranges from clean-up-paint-up activities to re-enactment of the Battle of Hanover was outlined Wednesday night at a planning meeting of Hanover Community Bicentennial Corporation.

"Recognition of the Past, Enthusiasm For the Future" was adopted as a theme for the observance.

The activities are scheduled to start Sunday, June 23, and to close with the battle reenactment Sunday, June 30.

Borough Manager Joseph B. O'Brien was named general chairman for the clean-up-paint-up project scheduled to start early in April.

Highlights for the week-long activities include nightly band concerts at Wirt park, block dances, all-star youth baseball game, a "street of shops," featuring Civil War articles, combined meeting of all service clubs, an open women's meeting, a dessert bridge party and fashion show, concerts by choral groups, tours of the community and industries, a parade and dances.

Thomas Pitts, chairman of the battle re-enactment committee, said approximately 2,200 troops in Civil War costumes are expected to participate in the battle activities.

Lawrence E. Oyler Picked To

Succeed C. A. Williams As Gettysburg Postmaster: Lawrence

E. Oyler, Baltimore street, has been recommended to Senator Joseph F. Guffey for recommendation to President Roosevelt for appointment to the postmaster ship at Gettysburg it was officially revealed today.

It has been unofficially known for several days that Mr. Oyler had been selected by a committee of prominent democrats to succeed Charles A. Williams whose resignation becomes effective March 31st.

It was not until this morning, that two members of the committee, who refused to be quoted by name, officially confirmed the selection. His name has been forwarded to Senator Guffey who has been asked to present the recommendation to President Roosevelt. The local committee has not received acknowledgement of its recommendation from Guffey.

Mr. Oyler, an ex-service man, is linotype-machinist at The Times and News Publishing Company.

Young Officer Goes To "Point": John C. Stahle, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Stahle, York street, has been commissioned a second lieutenant and ordered to report for duty at the United States Military Academy, West Point, N. Y., March 5.

Lieutenant Stahle, a graduate of Gettysburg high school, attended Gettysburg college for a time before he received an appointment to West Point. He graduated from West Point in January and since that time has been home on leave. He has not been advised what his duties at The Point will be. He may be assigned as an instructor. He was a member of the Army varsity football team and participated in other athletic activities.

St. James Will Burn Mortgage: A mortgage burning service will be held Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock at St. James Lutheran Church.

The church, which was founded in 1789, cleared its debt during the last year and arrangements were made by the Rev. R. R. Gresh, pastor, to hold the mortgage burning exercises on Sunday. Assisting in the service will be C. J. Toot, church treasurer. Three churches have been built on the present site. The second was built in 1912 and was destroyed by fire October 31, 1923. Dedication of the present church with its two-story educational building addition was held on December 8, 1929.

The church has sent 32 members into the ministry. Twenty-three pastors, including the Rev. Mr. Gresh, have served during its history.

624 Rabbits Are Placed In County: Fifty-two dozen of rabbits, trapped in Missouri, have been released in various sections of Adams county, it was announced today by Leo Bushman, county game protector. In addition to the cottontails brought here from Missouri, Mr. Bushman trapped 55 rabbits from a game propagation area near East Berlin and distributed them over the county also.

Naval Officer Weds March 12: Invitations were received here today to the wedding of Miss Nancy Croom Murchison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claudius Temple Murchison, of Washington, to Lieutenant C. C. "Jimmie" Bream Jr., at Chapel Hill, North Carolina, on Friday, March 12. The wedding will take place at 6:30 p.m. in the "Chapel of the Cross" at Chapel Hill where Lieutenant Bream is on duty with the Navy Pre-Flight school physical fitness division. Lieutenant Bream is a graduate

Today's Talk

TO TRAVEL HOPEFULLY

We need the ability to breast circumstances with greater heart and more courage. Even the arrival is not so important as the attitude of mind and heart during the journey. To travel hopefully becomes a part of the arrival!

The conditions of life seem to change with the moves of circumstance, therefore all the more have we need of patience and heroism!

Every day a new world opens its doors to us. And often the new world isn't so good looking as the one we may have only recently left. Then it is that the adage returns — travel hopefully all the way.

We never know when our dreams will come true. Perhaps never for some of them. But, traveling, hopefully, some of them are sure to come true.

We need frankness in our dealings with the world, and we need that frankness to start with us. There is such a thing as being honest and dishonest with oneself — and that is the best or worst of virtues. But, when we know that we are honest with ourselves, we know that we can travel hopefully — ahead.

Little do we know about this journey of ours, outside the beauties along the way, and the good that it is our privilege to do every day that we live. This enables us to travel hopefully.

I have never left for long trips without casting my mind's eyes far ahead to the time when I should arrive, and to the time when I should reach home again. These objectives kept me traveling hopefully, no matter what the privations were.

When times are darkest is when we should travel in greatest hope. If everybody did, times wouldn't be dark very long!

To travel hopefully is often to arrive long before you expected. Another advantage to be gained by keeping your chin up and your feet warm!

Just Folks

SLEET STORM
Old Winter brought the sleet last night
And played a cruel jest.
In heavy robes of stalactite
The trees and shrubs were dressed.On cedar, elm and pine were placed Great weights of crystal clear,
And leaf and twig were all encased
Within a bright veneer.Some thought it was a lovely sight
To see them thus arrayed
With jewels, glistening diamond white,
Upon them heavy-laid.But like a woman bent with years
I saw my favorite tree
Bowed down as if to hide the tears
That such a jest could be.It seemed a piteous sight to me
To look at branches fair
Struggling 'neath heavy finery
They were not meant to wear.

Orders Auction At Bankrupt Stores

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—U.S. Referee in Bankruptcy Saul Seidman has ordered public auctions at five discount department stores operated by Scott's Discount Enterprises Inc.

A first meeting of creditors has also been scheduled for March 8 at 2 p.m. in U.S. District Court here.

The stores where public auctions will be held for sale of assets will be those in Waterbury, Conn., March 11 at 2 p.m.; Newington, Conn., March 12 at 11 a.m.; Wilkes-Barre, Pa., March 18 at 2 p.m.; Cleona, Pa., March 19 at 2 p.m.; and Johnstown, Pa., March 21 at 11 a.m.

FACES THEFT CHARGE
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Russell Lynn Barr, 55, was arrested here Wednesday on charges of embezzling more than $30,000 from the Palmyra, Pa., Volunteer Fire Department.

Barr, former treasurer of the fire department, told police he had made a tour of the United States during the eight months since he left Lebanon and decided to retire here last November. He was held for extradition to Pennsylvania.

of Gettysburg high school and Gettysburg college. He starred in football, basketball and baseball at both institutions. For a number of years he was athletic director at Berwick high school. He enlisted in the Naval Reserve a year ago. The couple will live at Chapel Hill.

College Choir Is Lauded By District Critic

The following is the contributing critic's review of the concert given by the Gettysburg College choir in St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Washington, D.C., last Sunday afternoon:

By JOHN HASKINS

Contributing Critic

Gettysburg, Pa., is a picturesque spot one passes through traveling west on the way to a turnpike entrance. It is famous in recent times as the residence of an ex-President, and a century back as the location of one of the most important battles in American history. It is about to become famous for another reason, the Gettysburg College Choir.

The choir of 60 voices is the creation of Parker B. Wagnild, its director, himself an alumnus of St. Olaf's Choir and a student of F. Melius Christiansen. In eight years at Gettysburg, where he is chairman of the music department, he has built a choral instrument of surpassing excellence.

Singing without score, and without accompaniment, the choir showed an exemplary responsiveness to Mr. Wagnild's quiet direction, producing an heroic crescendo with the same unstrained smoothness as they brought out a whispered pianissimo. The intonation was virtually flawless.

One of the most impressive things on the program was William Schuman's "Prelude for Voices," a fascinating setting of a passage from the writings of Thomas Wolfe. Carolyn Musselman, soprano, did an outstanding job of singing her memorable lines against the chorus. The Bach motet, "Jesu, Meine Freude," sung regrettably in English, was given a devotional but not really fervent rendering.

In August, the choir sings in Helsinki, Finland, as one of the official choirs of the Lutheran World Federation Assembly. En route they expect to sing in Germany, France, Switzerland, the Netherlands, Scandinavia, and Russia. The State Department would be wise to offer them full sponsorship for they will make a hit wherever they sing, and they make as fine a group of musical ambassadors as one can find around.

RECEPTION IS HELD

At a reception after their concert, the choir was greeted by Madame Dobrynin, appearing on behalf of her absent husband, the ambassador from the Soviet Union. Marti Korhonen, cultural attaché at the Finnish Embassy, also greeted the choir on behalf of the ambassador from Finland. All that was missing was a representative of the State Department, one whose memory was long enough to remember that fine choir from Arkansas which toured Europe unsponsored and unpunished some months back and walked off with a major prize in a tough international competition. The Gettysburg Choir should not get away, for they are among the best.

Masked Burglar Was A Raccoon

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—Ed Edgar heard a noise at his front entrance Wednesday night and found a masked burglar in a fur coat opening his storm door. Edgar called police.

Officers watched in amazement as the burglar—a raccoon—mounted a four-inch ledge under a picture window, pressed the doorbell with a paw and pulled on the door handle.

Patrolman Thomas Jones said the 'coon tried a break-in earlier at a house in the next block. The householder reported his bell rang and his front door slammed repeatedly but he couldn't find anyone at the door. Officers took the 'coon to the dog pound.

Ad Executives To Attend Conference

HARRISBURG (AP)—Advertising executives from newspapers, agencies and department stores across the state are expected to attend a three-day advertising conference sponsored by the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association.

The conference, which opened today, features several speakers, including Melvin E. Tharp of Columbus, president of the Newspaper Advertising Executives Association; Louis Tannenbaum of the bureau of advertising, American Newspaper Publishers Association; P.N.P.A. president Eugene A. Simon, publisher of the Tarentum Valley News; and Fred H. Stapleford, advertising director of the Philadelphia Inquirer.

The top news story of 1888 was the blizzard from March 11 to 14, which immobilized New York and took 400 lives.

The POWER of FAITH By WOODI ISHMAEL

Once more we start the Lenten season—the 40 days that commemorate Jesus' 40 days of trial in the wilderness. He used this time for spiritual training, to prepare himself for the mission that lay ahead. He was hungry and He was tempted. "And the devil said unto him, If thou be the son of God, command this stone that it be made bread. And Jesus answered him saying, It is written, That man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word of God." For us too Lent should be a time of study and reflection on the word of God that we may do well the work that has been set out for us. The small trials that we may set upon ourselves can remind us that Lent is a period of preparation for sharing in the power that comes from faith in Christ.

Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, Army chief of staff, has told the Senate Armed Services Committee he was pleased with what he found on a recent trip to inspect operations by U.S. special forces in South Viet Nam and elsewhere in Southeast Asia.

"Training is intelligent, thorough and pointed to the job," Wheeler said Wednesday. "Small combat operations by the dozen are taking place daily throughout the country."

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has told the Atomic Energy Commission that in the event of an enemy attack it should shut down all plants and facilities "which could otherwise constitute a significant hazard to public health and safety."

The commission also was ordered Wednesday by Kennedy to develop appropriate emergency plans for nuclear reactors and other nuclear activities licensed by the AEC, including those operated by private firms.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Internal Revenue Service, looking back over 1962, reports 1,204 tax violators were sentenced last year. They drew an aggregate of 308 years in prison and $3 million in fines.

H. Alan Long, IRS chief of intelligence, said his men recommended more than 2,000 cases for prosecution. The Justice Department obtained 748 fraud indictments, 300 more than in 1961.

WASHINGTON (AP)—King Savang Vathana of Laos left Wednesday night for Zurich with President Kennedy's assurance the United States will support the coalition government in establishing a neutral state.

A joint communique issued after the monarch paid an hour-long farewell call at the White House said the two men conferred on recent developments in Laos, particularly implementation of the Geneva accords and the future of Laotian-American relations.

Jim Vollenweider, rookie full-back with the San Francisco 49ers last season, is in the Army at Ford Ord, Calif.

SCRIBE LAUDS SELECTION OF OSCAR ENTRIES

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—This could be Oscar's finest hour. Never have the Academy nominations seemed so apt, so free of the taint of commercialism and local interest, as those which were announced this week.

The 2,500 Academy members, bless their hearts, refused to be stampeded into naming some of the heavy spenders who waged noisy campaigns for nominations they didn't merit. The voters also avoided most of the other traps that have hurt Oscar's reputation in the past.

You might expect touchiness over runaway production to sway the voters. But No. "Lawrence of Arabia" was the front runner in total nominations.

SELECT ITALIAN

Then again, you would think chauvinism would rule the voting, especially since the last Oscars went to a pair of foreigners, Sophia Loren and Maximilian Schell. Wrong again. Nominated for the top acting award was Marcello Mastroianni, who can't speak English.

Also Peter O'Toole, an Irishman. The supporting actor nominees include a Britisher (Terence Stamp) and an Egyptian (Omar Sharif).

Nor could the voters be swayed entirely by money matters. They passed up the director of the $18-million "Mutiny on the Bounty" to reward Frank Perry, who directed his first movie, "David and Lisa," at a cost of $150,000.

OTHERS NAMED

The actress categories seem highly satisfactory. Anyone with an ounce of sentiment will cheer the nominations of those great Bette Davis and Katharine Hepburn.

WEDGWOOD DISPLAY

Sunday will mark the opening of the exhibition of varieties of Wedgwood at the Washington County Museum of Fine Arts, Hagerstown. This exhibition consists of 61 items chosen from the extensive collection of the Futen Museum of Wedgwood in Merion, Pa. As a special feature at 4 p.m. Harry M. Buten will present an illustrated lecture entitled "Unusually Useful Wedgwood." Mr. Buten, director and founder of the Buten Museum, is also an attorney, accountant, art collector, lecturer, musician and author.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House bomb shelter is being modernized. The cost is estimated at about $500,000.

Andrew T.atcher, assistant press secretary, confirmed Wednesday that the work of modernizing the bomb shelter to include a modern communications system is well under way.

The underground shelter was first built during World War II when Franklin D. Roosevelt was president. It was improved during the administration of Dwight D. Eisenhower.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—A bandit showed a pistol to clerk Lloyd A. Anderson Wednesday night and demanded the money in the liquor store's cash register. "Get it yourself," Anderson retorted. "This is a self-service store."

The holdup man helped himself.

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—A federal court jury has awarded a woman $130,000 damages for her husband's death at Cape Canaveral more than four years ago.

After a five-day trial, the jury returned Wednesday night a finding of negligence against General Dynamics Corp. in the death of Frederick Adams, who fell from a rocket-servicing tower at the missile test center in 1958.

"Rock" Will Close Repairs Too Costly

ALCATRAZ, Calif. (AP)—"The Rock" was down to 64 convicts today.

Only a year ago, the island prison near San Francisco's Golden Gate housed 260. In its time, it has held some of the nation's toughest cons—Al Capone, Alvin (Creepy) Karpis and Basil (The Owl) Banghart.

Now it's being phased out. Salt air, wind and time are wearing away Alcatraz, a prison of one sort or another since 1858. It's too costly to restore.

Among 38 cons moved off the rock Tuesday was Mickey Cohen, Los Angeles racketeer doing time for income tax evasion. They sent him to Atlanta.

The prison is expected to be empty by July 1.

CONGRESS IN UPROAR OVER CUBAN POLICY

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—With Democrats and Republicans shaking accusing fingers at each other, bipartisan foreign policy has touched bottom in Congress' frustrated uproar over the Soviet takeover of Cuba.

Since the 1940s when the late Sen. Arthur Vandenberg, R-Mich., started it all, it has been politically fashionable for office seekers and holders to proclaim their adherence to the idea that partisanship stops at the water's edge.

Bipartisanship has been reserved for programs, such as foreign aid, where the executive felt he needed every vote he could scrape up in Congress to put over proposals that lacked political appeal among the voters.

NOT INFORMED

But when it came to such decisions as those of former President Harry S. Truman to send American fighting men to Korea, Congress learned of the decision only after it was made.

Similarly, the present disturbance stems in significant part from (1) President Kennedy's rejection of Republican contentions that there was an offensive threat in Cuba and (2) GOP claims that Republicans were not consulted before Kennedy decided last October to order a quarantine on arms shipments to the island.

Party leaders were summoned to the White House at the time. Their testimony was unanimous that although their comments were asked for, they were told finally that the decision already had been made and would be put into effect.

SENATOR IRKED

This and other actions have led Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, to declare "there is no bipartisan foreign policy." Despite this, he contended that Republicans contribute 100 per cent to "unity in time of crisis" involving decisions in which they didn't share.

Diplomats Take Little Three Swimming Meet; Bullets Place Second

Franklin and Marshall College rolled to its seventh Little Three swimming victory in 15 years by registering 67 points compared to runner-up Gettysburg's 52 and third-place Dickinson's 49 Wednesday night in the Student Union Building tank before a large crowd.

The meet marked the final of the regular 1962-63 season for Coach Curt Coull's swimmers. Gettysburg recorded four wins and six setbacks, including the tri-meet loss.

By walking off with the victory the Diplomats captured the first rung of the J. Shober Barr Little Three Trophy. The trophy is awarded in honor of Franklin and Marshall's retiring athletic director and it will travel until a school claims three victories in the annual meet.

BULLETS SET MARK

Despite the second-place finish, the Bullets gave an excellent performance. Craig Van Tatenhove, Gettysburg Sophomore long distance freestyler, set a new school pool record in the 500-free style when he crossed the finish line in 5:57.6. Junior Scott Ashman hit top form when he smashed the pool and school record in the diving, accumulating 75.55 points. Tim Cook, Dickinson's exciting Freshman diver, defeated Ashman in a dual meet earlier in the season but Wednesday belonged to the Bullets' Pittsburgh native as he executed each dive to near perfection.

Franklin and Marshall took six first places with Joe Brophy, "Mr. Everything," winning two events and anchoring the winning 400-free style relay team. Dickinson's lone winner was Jim Freeman in the 200-backstroke. Gettysburg's third first place came on Sophomore Pete Wilson's 50-free style victory in 23.8 seconds.

Coach Curt Coull will take his swimmers to Bucknell University Friday and Saturday for the annual Middle Atlantic Conference swimming and diving championships.

The results:

400-medley relay: 1, F&M (Hoppner, Holbrook, Smulyan, Irwin); 2, Dickinson, 4:09.9.

200-free style: 1, Brophy, F&M; 2, Rogers, D; 3, Cheyney, G; 4, Van Tatenhove, G; 5, Cressman, D; 2:00.8.

500-free style: 1, Wilson, G; 2, Boak, F&M; 3, Sokey, G; 4, Winfield, D; 5, Hemphill, D; 2:38.8.

200-individual medley: 1, Hoppner, F&M; 2, Bird, D; 3, Gentle, G; 4, Boak, F&M; 5, Lohrenz, G; 2:23.1.

Diving: 1, Ashman, G; 2, Cook, D; 3, Sokey, G; 4, Kiester, F&M; 5, Point, D; 75.55 points.

200-butterfly: 1, Smulyan, F&M; 2, Shatto, D; 3, Morlan, F&M; 4, Reuter, D; 5, Ashman, G; 2:32.6.

100-free style: 1, Brophy, F&M; 2, Wilson, G; 3, Irwin, F&M; 4, Rogers, D; 5, Winfield, D; 2:32.3.

200-backstroke: 1, Freeman, D; 2, Wallace, F&M; 3, Gentle, G; 4, Bird, D; 5, Betts, G; 2:20.6.

500-free style: 1, Van Tatenhove, G; 2, Rogers, D; 3, Smulyan, F&M; 4, Cressman, D; 5, Salminen, G; 5:57.6.

200-bread stroke: 1, Holbrook, F&M; 2, Lohrenz, G; 3, Arnold, D; 4, Frey, D; 5, Gelbert, G; 2:39.4.

400-free style relay: 1, F&M (Irwin, Boak, Hoppner, Brophy); 2, Gettysburg, 3:36.8.

Ask the Cleveland Barons.

It was the Barons' misfortune to travel to Hershey Wednesday night for a game that could propel both the Bears and Marshall into first place. They made it in spades, Hershey taking a 12-4 rout and Marshall playing a big part with a goal and four assists.

The two points for victory boosted Hershey out of a tie with Providence and into sole possession of the Eastern Division lead while the five points jumped Marshall into the scoring lead with 77 for the season.

It was one of two games played in the AHL Wednesday. At Pittsburgh, the home teaming Hornets snapped a nine-game losing streak but still managed only a 1-1 overtime tie with Quebec. After two scoreless periods, Ed Joyal put Pittsburgh into the lead with a 15-footer at 3:17 of the third period.

Goalie Dennis Riggan protected his shutout for another nine minutes, then was beaten by a 40-foot shot by Jean Marie Cossette of Quebec that tied the score at 12:20. Neither team could score again although the Hornets got off 13 shots at goalie Charlie Hodge in the 10-minute overtime.

SEE 3-WAY CONTEST IN ICE SKATING

By GERALD MILLER

CORTINA, Italy (AP)—A three-way contest between West Germany, Canada and the Soviet Union dominated the start of the 1963 World Figure Skating Championships today.

At stake was the crown for the pairs competition, first title to be decided in the four-day event at Cortina's Olympic Stadium.

Squared off against Canada and West Germany—two nations that have dominated pairs skating since its inception as a world event—was the Soviet Union, hungry for its first world figure skating title of any kind.

The Russian husband-wife team of Oleg and Laila Protopopov enjoyed a tactical advantage of a late start in the skating order—ninth place in the field of 12.

The pre-meet favorites, Marika Kilius and Hans-Jurgen Baumer of West Germany faced the disadvantage of an early starting time in the skating order—No. 3—just ahead of Canada's Gertrude Desjardins and Maurice LaFrance.

Debbie Wilkes and Guy Revell, the Canadian and North American champions who came here as Canada's top hopes, withdrew Wednesday. Miss Wilkes suffered a head injury in a fall Monday.

The United States was hopeful of landing one of its three teams among the top five. All fared well in the skating order with champions Judianne and Jerry Fotheringill fifth, runners-up Vivian and Ronald Joseph seventh, and third-place Patti Gustafson and Pieter Kollen 10th.

WITTENBERG IS IN TOP SPOT

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wittenberg continues to hold the top spot in the Associated Press small college basketball rankings, which underwent little change after last week's action.

The Tigers of Ohio received five first place votes from among the AP's nationwide eight-man panel of sports writers. With 10 points for a first, 9 for a second and so on, Wittenberg collected 69 points to 62 for Grambling and 60 for Southeast Missouri. The Tigers currently have a 20-1 record and are in the Ohio Conference Tournament.

Grambling eased up one place to second, while Southeast Missouri slipped to third and Evansville kept fourth. The top four were the only teams picked on all ballots of the total of 23 mentioned.

The Top Ten with first place votes in parentheses, records and points:

Bullets Host Bucknell Here This Evening

Gettysburg College, enjoying a far greater season than expected prior to the start of the campaign, goes after its 15th victory here tonight when it clashes with Bucknell in a Middle Atlantic University Division basketball game.

The Bullets, who routed the Bisons at Lewisburg 77-64 last December 15, can expect a stiffer battle tonight with the improving Bisons. Despite its 6-15 record, Bucknell has shown surprising strength from time to time and can be counted upon to go all out against the Bullets.

Larry Hathaway, a 6-4 Sophomore, is the team's leading scorer and rebounder with an average of 16.2 points per game and 14.2 rebounds. Another Soph, John Matthews, 6-0, ranks second on his 13.9 average.

Other starters are expected to include Captain Tom Johnson, 5-9 Senior; Karl Heiner, 6-2 Sophomore, and Don Hester, 6-2 Junior.

The preliminary game at 6:45 again promises to be outstanding. In that contest the Bullets yearlings, 15-2, will seek revenge for one of its two losses, having been beaten at Lewisburg 36-75.

After tonight's twin bill the Bullets will conclude their campaign with a double-header with Franklin and Marshall here Saturday night.

The pre-meet favorites, Marika Kilius and Hans-Jurgen Baumer of West Germany faced the disadvantage of an early starting time in the skating order—No. 3—just ahead of Canada's Gertrude Desjardins and Maurice LaFrance.

Debbie Wilkes and Guy Revell, the Canadian and North American champions who came here as Canada's top hopes, withdrew Wednesday. Miss Wilkes suffered a head injury in a fall Monday.

EX-CHAMPION YVON DURELLE OUT OF FUNDS

TORONTO (AP)—Two years ago, when Yvon Durelle was an 88-day worker with the New Brunswick department of lands and mines, he vowed he would never return to boxing.

"I'll never be that hard up," he said. "I can always eat fish."

But even the fish wouldn't bite for the crazy-faced Baie Ste. Anne fighter. He had to sell his last fishing boat to survive and to keep his wife and four young children eating.

The onetime Canadian and British Empire light heavyweight champion, who had earned more than $80,000 in the ring, was broke. Three months earlier the Moncton boxing commission had barred him from fighting in that city after he took a bad beating from a third-rate gym fighter.

"I CAN'T BOX," he once told a friend. "The only way I can fight is to go straight ahead and punch. I can't go sideways or backwards."

The friend was Merv McKenzie of Toronto, Ontario athletic commissioner.

McKenzie recalled the conversation earlier this week when he read about Durelle's seventh-round knockout in Montreal over Cecil Gray of Halifax.

"The promoters certainly didn't over-match Yvon this time," McKenzie said in an interview. "If he was in with somebody good, it probably would be the end of him. This fight is just a teaser. Gray is nobody but, unfortunately, there's always a chance that a nobody will tag a guy and put him out of commission."

McKenzie said he wouldn't allow Durelle to fight in Ontario.

"Durelle is a nice guy," said McKenzie. "He's frank and earnest, but everybody knows where nice guys wind up."

SPAHN SEEKS EARLY START

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Milwaukee southpaw Warren Spahn, the winningest hurler in the majors, is following the training program used by younger pitchers and hopes it will give him a faster start this year.

Spahn, who will be 42 in April and boasts 327 victories in 18 big league seasons, said Wednesday that he had cut down on the training pace he set for himself in previous years.

"I always used to come down here and start throwing immediately," he said. "I would pitch myself into shape. Now I've managed to have a program of conditioning for all the other pitchers. It should be good enough for me."

WORK SLOWLY

"The main thing is that I won't throw as much. I'll work myself into shape more gradually. I am going to try to build up to a conditioning peak so I am ready for the opening day."

Spahn said that the elbow trouble which bothered him in the last two months of the 1962 season apparently has disappeared. He added that he "aches all over" after a full day of work but "that's what happens when you get old."

NEW OXFORD 5 IN DISTRICT CLASS C GAME

A rugged assignment faces Jake Diviney's New Oxford High School basketball squad tonight at 8 o'clock when it tangles with Upper Dauphin, winner of two straight Upper Dauphin League titles, in a District 3 PIAA Class C playoff.

The Huskies, who hail from Elizabethtown, have a 21-1 record overall and 16-0 in the league. The lone loss was to Tri-Valley on the latter's court.

Royal Harner, 5-9 Senior, is the top scorer for the Huskies with an average of 20 points per game. Bill Wetzel, 6-2 Junior, is the top rebounder as well as the team's second scorer. Completing the squad are Randy Harner, 5-11 Senior; Don Bechtel, 5-9 Senior; an Tom Stirling, 5-10 Junior; Dennis Henninger, 5-9 Senior, is the foremost reservist.

HUSKIES "RUNNERS"

Upper Dauphin is a "running team" to offset its lack of height. Coach Gordon Foster consistently uses a pressing zone mixed with a man-to-man defense. Last year Upper Dauphin was eliminated in the Class C playoffs by West Reading.

New Oxford has just completed its regular season schedule with 18 victories against but three setbacks. The Colonials won the Eastern Division title of the Adams-Franklin League and still must play Greencastle, Western Division champs, for the overall title.

Sophomore John Harner, 6-0, has been one of the most consistent scorers for the Colonials with Dave Meekley 5-10, Mike Hull 5-7 and Ken Simpson 6-0, all Seniors, scoring heavily from time to time. Bill Dubbs, 6-2 Junior, and Jack Sneedon 6-1 Sophomore, have also come up with some fine scoring performances.

Select Sites For More Cage Tourneys

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The sites of three more regional basketball tournaments March 8-9 were announced today by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

The 32-team small college field will be completed this weekend, and pairings will be announced Tuesday.

Additional tournament sites are at Washington University of St. Louis for the Great Lakes Regional; at Fresno, Calif. State for the Southwest regional.

Twenty regional tournament berths have been determined with the acceptance of nine new teams this week. National finals will be held at Evansville, Ind., March 13-15.

Despite his history of physical setbacks and his relatively advanced athletic age, Mantle said Thursday that he hoped to "play five more seasons at top clip, maybe more."

Maris, the 61-homer man of 1961, was expected to take a rather hefty cut in pay after last season's considerably less spectacular showing—but he'll get the same $2,000. He hit 33 homers in '62, and batted .256.

MOUNT FACES CATHOLIC IN M-D TOURNEY

Tonight Mt. St. Mary's starts its campaign for a third straight Mason-Dixon Conference tournament basketball title when it meets Catholic University in a quarterfinal game in Washington, D.C.

The Mount Catholic game will be one of four to be played on the Catholic floor and will start at 8:45.

Other games include: 5:15, Western Maryland vs. Roanoke; 6:55, Loyola vs. Hampden-Sydney; and 10:15, Randolph-Macon vs. Baltimore.

The first and fourth game winners will meet Friday at 7:30 and the second and third game victors at 9:30. Winners of those games will meet Saturday at 8:15 for the title and the right to take part in the NCAA College Division playoffs. Last year the Mountaineers swept through to the national title.

Tonight's game will mark the third time this season the Mount and Catholic have met. Jim Phelan's outfit won at Emmitsburg 83-70 and lost at Washington 81-64. The Mount carries an overall 10-10 record into the game. Catholic is 16-10.

Averill And Torre Injured In Drill

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies suffered two minor casualties at Wednesday's first full-squad spring training workout.

Catcher Earl Averill suffered a badly bruised toe when he was hit by a foul tip. He was limping at the end of the workout and trainer Joe Liscio said the player may lose the nail.

First baseman Frank Torre was hit on the back of the head by a line drive, but was not knocked out. Torre, running in the outfield when hit, said he felt dizzy.

NO SECRETS ABOUT YANK PAY FIGURES

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—They win more than anyone else, but otherwise the New York Yankees aren't apt to cause much of a radical stir in major league baseball.

They shook off the cloak of conservatism Wednesday, however, when they:

1. Signed slugger Mickey Mantle for $100,000.

2. Displayed the contract for all to see.

3. And then landed slugger Roger Maris for $72,000 virtually before the ink was dry on Mantle's contract.

Thus, the world champions shattered precedent not only by signing their two highest-priced performers at the same stroke but also by showing off the salary figure on a player's contract—normally a top secret item.

Why the Yankees exhibited Mantle's signed contract to newsmen was not explained, but probably because the document puts the Oklahoma man in a small circle of baseball's 100-grandees. Willy Mays signed for that amount last week with the San Francisco Giants, and Stan Musial, Ted Williams and Joe DiMaggio have been the only others in the club.

Mantle, 31, has been an ailment-prone athlete in his 12 seasons with the Yankees but has established himself as a star of the first magnitude nevertheless. Last year, for example, the switch-hitting belter missed 39 games altogether and was limited to part-time duty in several others, mostly because of leg injuries.

But he paced the Yanks to the American League pennant, wound up with a .321 batting average and 30 home runs, and was voted the Most Valuable Player award for the third time. His exploits earned him a raise of some $15,000.

Despite his history of physical setbacks and his relatively advanced athletic age, Mantle said Thursday that he hoped to "play five more seasons at top clip, maybe more."

Maris, the 61-homer man of 1961, was expected to take a rather hefty cut in pay after last season's considerably less spectacular showing—but he'll get the same $2,000. He hit 33 homers in '62, and batted .256.

2 BATTLE FOR $2,000 BONUS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

In a pair of no-contest races, the Boston Celtics and Los Angeles Lakers have all but mathematically clinched divisional first places in the National Basketball Association.

But these two flaming rivals still have some unfinished business—to battle it out for the honor, and the spot of cash, that go to the club with the highest regular season winning percentage. In addition to the satisfaction of being No. 1 in the averages, the top club also receives a $2,000 bonus.

Boston got a lift toward the prize Wednesday night, even though idle, with an assist from the Syracuse Nats. They whipped the Lakers 122-111, leaving the Western Division leaders in a virtual tie with the Celts in win-loss percentages. Los Angeles is 50-20 for .714 with 10 games to go, Boston is 51-21 for .708 with eight games left.

In other NBA games, the Chicago Zephyrs put on a final scoring flurry and beat the St. Louis Hawks 98-93, and the Cincinnati Royals rolled over the New York Knickerbockers 119-107.

Maple Leafs Are In Second Place

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Big M, Toronto's Frank Mahovlich, is back in the scramble for individual scoring honors in the National Hockey League and, as a direct result, the Maple Leafs are back in second place.

The big left winger scored one goal and assisted on three others Wednesday night in Toronto's important 6-3 conquest of the league-leading Chicago Black Hawks. It was the only game played.

The victory lifted Toronto over idle Montreal into second, seven points back of the leaders. Mahovlich's fur-point burst boosted him into third place in the scoring race. He now has 31 goals and 31 assists for 62 points. Chicago's Stan Mikita leads with 66 and Gordie Howe of Detroit has 65.

TEN BULLETS ENTERED IN MAC TOURNEY

Gettysburg College will send 10 wrestlers to the annual Middle Atlantic Conference championships at Hofstra College, Hempstead, N.Y., Friday and Saturday.

Gettysburg was unable to send representatives a year ago and since 1953 the Bullets have been unable to finish higher than sixth place. Between 1930 and 1955, Gettysburg walked off with eight conference championships, finished second four times and took third place twice.

Escaped Red Guard Revisits Berlin Wall

EDITOR'S NOTE: Michael Marer, 22-year-old Communist East German guard at the Berlin Wall, stationed just southwest of Berlin in Drewitz, on Christmas Day 1961 climbed over rows of barbed wire fences and fled into West Berlin. Sometime later, Marer went back to the scene of his escape. He looked across the Wall into East Germany. And he talked with some of his former comrades.

BERLIN (AP) — Last time I stood at the concrete wall, women of the East German town of Babelsberg were queuing for an extra issue of salt herring.

It was close to New Year's Eve and everybody was happy to be able to prepare herring salad for New Year's Eve celebrations.

The women had to stand for over an hour in bitterly cold weather. They all lived in the wall area.

will be evacuated," our officers had told us.

Now, over a year later, I'm on the other side of the wall. I am free, no longer a border guard of the East German Communists.

Here, on the western side of the wall, they've set up a wooden podium from where you can look over the wall. I can see well into Stubenrauchstrasse. The wall is only six feet high here.

Stubenrauchstrasse looks deserted, more so than it looked when I was on guard duty there on the other side.

Two of my former comrades sit on a big piece of stone, daydreaming, just as I used to do after eight hours of wall duty when I could not stand on my own feet anymore.

A big sedan of the Tshanka type is parked on the street's right-hand curb. The Tshanka costs some 20,000 East German marks ($5,000 at the official exchange rate). High-ranking officers use it, as a rule.

BARBED WIRE

Nearby stands a motor scooter, its front mud-guard dented. It belongs to a carpenter living in Stubenrauchstrasse. I remember that he smashed it into the heavy barrier across the street one night.

"It's high time the barrier was moved," the carpenter grumbled. Our officers called him "politically unreliable." My corporal consoled the man: "Things like that can happen — well, the barrier won't be here forever," he told the carpenter.

I leave the podium and walk along the wall. Then, I reach a stretch where the border is marked by several rows of barbed wire.

GUARD HE KNOWS

Two border guards carefully venture out of their hiding place behind a pile of wooden boards. They're violating regulations. I know, because their orders are to avoid being spotted from the West.

I know one of them. Reluctant and surprised, he's mumbling my name to the other guard. He looks at me with consternation. I return his stare. From his freckled face I can tell he's taken by surprise.

"Good day," I shout over.

The guards don't answer. I recall that we had been told: Should a "deserter" appear at the western side of the wall, his only intention would be to woo the border guards to the West.

The two guards are waiting for me to say something. My silence seems to throw them off balance.

WHISPER, DISAPPEAR

They whisper. Then they disappear. They return moments later. Suddenly, the freckled one runs away. As he pants down the street, I can see him pull the re-

OWNER ORDERS DEATH TO TWO IRISH SETTERS

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Two beautiful and well-behaved Irish Setters were doomed to die this week in accordance with the will of a dead woman. There was little hope of saving them legally.

Destruction of the friendly animals was directed in the will of their mistress, Miss Ida M. Capers of Pittsburgh who died Jan. 26.

"She took absolutely magnificent care of them and couldn't stand them not getting the same love and care after she died," said attorney Fred C. Houston Jr., executor of the will. "She was very concerned about this."

UNABLE TO SAVE

Houston said he and an attorney for the Humane Society searched without success for legal means to save the dogs.

The greatest admirer of the dogs is kennel owner Thomas Miller who has been caring for them since Miss Capers took ill Jan. 9. He wants to save them.

"When you look at the dogs you just wonder why they have to be destroyed," Miller said. "Miss Capers asked me to give them obedience training while they were here. I did and they learned fast. They're both wonderfully behaved. You couldn't ask for better dogs."

Houston said he's reluctant to have the dogs put to death. He said he must see that it's done — his hands are tied.

"I have had many offers from people to take the dogs," he said. "I would like to give them to someone but I can't."

The attorney said he did some legal research at the time the will was made and could find no reason why the will should not be carried out. "I can't see any way out of performing the trust imposed on me," he added.

The Humane Society agreed to kill the dogs this week. Houston said they would be killed with injections. Miss Capers stipulated in the will only that they be killed in a humane manner.

Both dogs are females, "Brickland" is 6; "Sunny Birth" is 2. They have long, silk-like hair.

Miller said Brickland has won awards at several shows, including a companion dog certificate and an extra-good companion dog certificate.

"The dogs seemed like the only friends she (Miss Capers) had," Miller explained. "I called her at St. Margaret's Hospital every day to tell her how they were."

GRIM CHOICE TO BE MADE AT GENEVA

GENEVA (AP)—U.S. and British disarmament negotiators seemed to face a grim choice today between unacceptable Soviet terms for a nuclear test ban or failure after four years of negotiations.

Despite the Soviet stand, American and British spokesmen said their governments would persevere with their efforts in the 17-nation disarmament negotiations. They said they thought agreement still was possible.

The external evidence pointed the other way.

The Soviet terms for a test ban are simple: A maximum of three on-site inspections per year to check on indications of underground nuclear explosions and three sealed seismograph recorders—black boxes—on Soviet territory.

Premier Khrushchev told a Kremlin audience Wednesday, "nothing more can be expected from us."

The U.S. and British governments consider three inspections and three black boxes totally inadequate to provide a foolproof check on the vast territory of the Soviet Union. The Western powers have demanded a minimum of seven of each.

The Soviet Union has not given an inch in this argument since the talks resumed on Feb. 12.

Open Bids For New Elementary School

HARRISBURG (AP)—Unofficial low bids totaling $31,413 have been submitted for construction of a new elementary school in the Cranberry Twp. School District, Venango County, the Public School Building Authority reported Wednesday.

The apparent low bidders were: General construction—M. C. Strickland and Son, Oil City; $185,526; heating and ventilating—Eckert Plumbing Co., Oil City; $27,946; plumbing—Carson Plumbing Co., Oil City; $26,500; and electrical—Cokain and McClelland Franklin, $25,438.

He noticed the East German officers with pistols drawn.

Lt. Bucher whispers something to his fellow officers. They put their weapons back into the holsters. They withdraw.

My old friend has watched the scene from on top of the embankment. I'm pleased he's been able to see his officers' withdrawal.

Highway Forces Will Be Reduced

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Highways Department says a 10 per cent reduction in permanent maintenance forces will become effective Friday in all of Pennsylvania's 67 counties.

The department said Wednesday, 1,061 permanent maintenance employees are affected by the Scranton administration economy move aimed at savings of about $5 million. The separations will occur March 8.

A department directive said the number of "on call" employees would be reduced 50 per cent immediately with the remaining employees in this category to be terminated March 8.

The services of all employees carried on a temporary basis will be dropped Friday, the directive said. The number of "on call" and temporary employees total 1,900.

SECOND TRIAL IS MISTRIAL

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Acting with "great reluctance," a judge Wednesday declared a mistrial in the second murder trial of Loney J. Johnson, 22, accused in the bludgeoning death of a housewife.

The action was taken by Judge Ethan Doty shortly after the tenth juror was chosen.

He gave no reason, but several times defense counsel Robert W. Williams Jr. had accused the district attorney's office of excluding Negroes from the jury.

Johnson is a Negro. His first trial three weeks had reached the same point when Judge Vincent A. Carroll declared a mistrial because of what he said were the delaying tactics of the defense.

Williams said assistant district attorney Richard A. Sprague had challenged seven Negroes since jury selection started Monday. Sprague denied it. He said he had challenged six.

Johnson is accused of bludgeoning to death Mrs. Claire Kramer during a robbery in her home last October. Two other persons—both white—have pleaded guilty to a part in the crime.

LABOR FUSS IRKS COURT

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission resumes hearings here Monday on a Pennsylvania Railroad proposal to drop two trains between Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

Three witnesses testified Wednesday when the hearings got underway in Harrisburg. Two represented the railroad, and the third spoke for the City of Philadelphia, which is opposing the move.

ICC Examiner Joseph A. Woolman said the trains which the railroad wants to eliminate are Nos. 37 and 39. No. 39 runs on weekdays, leaving Philadelphia 8:20 p.m. and arriving in Pittsburgh at 3:55 a.m. No. 37 runs on weekends, leaving Philadelphia at 8:20 p.m. and arriving in Pittsburgh at 4:10 a.m.

The railroad had sought to eliminate the trains, effective Feb. 10, but the ICC postponed the date for four months pending completion of the hearings.

300 truckers, expired last Dec. 31. They were extended pending settlement of a dispute within the teamsters.

EX-SOLDIER OF FORTUNE DIES; AGE 81

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Charles Sweeney, a millionaire's son who turned soldier of fortune to fight in seven wars under five flags, died Wednesday—in a hospital bed—of infirmities of age. He was 81.

A native of San Francisco, the tall, erect, ruddy-faced adventurer was one of the organizers of the Lafayette Escadrille in which Americans flew for France during World War I. Before America entered World War II, he organized the Royal Air Force's American "Eagle Squadron."

Sweeney's yen for adventure became apparent at the age of 16, when he enlisted in the U.S. Army and fought in the Spanish-American War.

STUDIED ABROAD

He returned to graduate from the University of Notre Dame and the U.S. Military Academy at West Point. He rounded out his military education at France's Ecole Militaire.

Sweeney enlisted as a private in the French Foreign Legion in 1914 and rose to the rank of lieutenant colonel within three years. He was transferred to the U.S. Army in 1917 when America entered the war.

Wounded three times, he retired at the end of the war as a colonel. Pursuing adventure, Sweeney fought as a general in the Polish army against the Bolsheviks, then joined the revolutionary army of Kemal Ataturk of Turkey.

In 1925, he was captain of an American squadron which fought for France in Morocco. He served as a military adviser to the Spanish loyalists in Spain's civil war.

The French Foreign Legion commissioned him a major general in 1939 after the outbreak of World War II.

During his career, Sweeney also served as a correspondent for American publications. He returned to the United States in 1942, and in 1944 made his home in Salt Lake City.

Survivors include his widow, Eva, who lives in France, and a son, Charles Jr., of Salt Lake City.

BALTIMORE STREET AT EAST MIDDLE

will be evacuated," our officers had told us.

Now, over a year later, I'm on the other side of the wall. I am free, no longer a border guard of the East German Communists.

Here, on the western side of the wall, they've set up a wooden podium from where you can look over the wall. I can see well into Stubenrauchstrasse. The wall is only six feet high here.

Stubenrauchstrasse looks deserted, more so than it looked when I was on guard duty there on the other side.

Two of my former comrades sit on a big piece of stone, daydreaming, just as I used to do after eight hours of wall duty when I could not stand on my own feet anymore.

A big sedan of the Tshanka type is parked on the street's right-hand curb. The Tshanka costs some 20,000 East German marks ($5,000 at the official exchange rate). High-ranking officers use it, as a rule.

BARBED WIRE

Nearby stands a motor scooter, its front mud-guard dented. It belongs to a carpenter living in Stubenrauchstrasse. I remember that he smashed it into the heavy barrier across the street one night.

"It's high time the barrier was moved," the carpenter grumbled. Our officers called him "politically unreliable." My corporal consoled the man: "Things like that can happen — well, the barrier won't be here forever," he told the carpenter.

I leave the podium and walk along the wall. Then, I reach a stretch where the border is marked by several rows of barbed wire.

GUARD HE KNOWS

Two border guards carefully venture out of their hiding place behind a pile of wooden boards. They're violating regulations. I know, because their orders are to avoid being spotted from the West.

I know one of them. Reluctant and surprised, he's mumbling my name to the other guard. He looks at me with consternation. I return his stare. From his freckled face I can tell he's taken by surprise.

"Good day," I shout over.

The guards don't answer. I recall that we had been told: Should a "deserter" appear at the western side of the wall, his only intention would be to woo the border guards to the West.

The two guards are waiting for me to say something. My silence seems to throw them off balance.

WHISPER, DISAPPEAR

They whisper. Then they disappear. They return moments later. Suddenly, the freckled one runs away. As he pants down the street, I can see him pull the re-

ADOPT BUDGET
OF $56,000 IN LITTLESTOWN

The Littlestown borough council at its February meeting Tuesday, night adopted its 1963 borough budget and a tax ordinance containing the 18-mill levy on real estate that has been in force there for the last 15 years.

The motion to adopt the budget and tax ordinance was adopted unanimously. The general fund budget provides for $56,000 in expenditures.

Before the budget was acted upon council turned down a proposal that the pay scale of the town policemen be increased. The proposal had been presented to council's finance committee by the mayor but the committee reported that it did not recommend any pay increase at this time and gave several reasons. They pointed out that less than a year has elapsed since the last raise. President Lewis H. Fox polled council members on the question and found four were opposed to the pay raise and two in favor.

SEEK FEDERAL FUNDS

Borough Secretary Roger Keefe reported to council he had written to Congressman George A. Goodling about the possibility of federal funds being available for community projects such as an addition to the fire hall, improvements to the water system including the construction of an impounding dam.

Secretary Keefe reported that the congressman had replied he will forward to Littlestown information on procedures for applying for federal assistance under the federal community facilities program. Goodling expressed the opinion he thought Littlestown may be eligible.

There was a discussion of procedures to be followed in the purchase of gasoline for borough equipment and the matter was left in the hands of the borough office.

FREE X-RAYS

Mayor Earl Sites reported to council that a mobile X-ray unit will be in Littlestown March 4 from 4:30 to 8 p.m. to offer free X-ray examinations. He said free parking will be given the unit on E. King St.

Councilman Howard O. Myers reported on the progress of talks with the county commissioners and Civil Defense Director William G. Weaver about financial help for Littlestown on the sheriff's band radio setup.

The resignation of Paul E. Renner as a borough auditor was presented to council by the borough secretary. The finance committee was asked to recommend a name for appointment to the vacancy at the next meeting of council.

STREET QUESTIONS

President Fox presided at the meeting with all members of council present and other borough officials in attendance. Various street matters were discussed including drainage conditions on Charles St. and W. King St. and council agreed to make a tour of the town at a future meeting early in the spring to list streets that should be placed on the construction or improvement program for the year.

Two water permits were issued. They went to Carroll A. Sentz for household uses at 117 Boyer St. and to Donald W. Feeser for household uses at 146 Lumber St.

After a report from George B. Soeringer that a fire hydrant is too close to his driveway, council agreed the hydrant can be eliminated. Council discussed the matter of painting fire hydrants this spring with some luminous

New Rebel Group
Active In Cuba

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The Sun-Sentinel says broadcasts from Cuba indicate a new anti-Castro group successfully executed sea and air strikes on the island's north coast.

The group involved was identified only as "the junta," said to be unrelated to other organizations combating Fidel Castro's regime. The newspaper said radio monitors in Dade and Broward counties heard broadcasts that a single airplane early today bombed military installations near Matanzas, 50 miles east of Havana, and that a boat put 14 guerrillas ashore on the Cuban north coast Tuesday at a point not specified.

One broadcast, purportedly from the guerrilla group, said the air raid "left the place in a mess."

PERMIT EXPIRES

Secretary Keefe told council that the Littlestown Borough Authority is advertising for bids for a gas recirculator to be installed in the sewage digester system. Bids are to be opened by the authority March 19.

Council learned it has had no reply from the state on a request for an extension of time on its permit for traffic lights in the town square. The council is ready to install an overhead light there but learned its previous permit from the state has expired.

After some discussion, council took action on the salaries of Mrs. Helen S. Collins and Mrs. Nadine Long who operate the town's answering service for emergency calls, including police.

OTHER BUSINESS

A recommendation of the finance committee was adopted that Mrs. Long be paid $2,400 a year and Mrs. Collins $1,400, effective February 25.

Council approved for payment bills from the borough fund totaling $4,180, from the water fund of $1,832, and from the sanitary sewer fund of $1,022. Treasurer John H. Flickinger reported these balances: General fund, $31,912; water fund, $38,321, and sanitary sewer fund, $52,081. Receipts for the last month totaled $1,722.

The monthly report of the chief of police showed 38 overtime parking violations, two in a no parking zone, two in front of front of private driveways, five on the wrong side of the street; six speeding violations, three too fast for conditions, one reckless driving, three for stop sign violations and one for making an improper turn. Four auto accidents were investigated and the police car covered 2,149 miles.

Meter collections brought in $626.08, council was told.

The meeting which convened at 7:30 p.m., ran until 11:40 p.m.

POLIO DAY IS PLANNED FOR MARCH 10TH

Polio Day will be noted in Littlestown on Sunday, March 10, as announced at the second February meeting of the local Junior Chamber of Commerce held on Tuesday evening at Dutterer's Restaurant. The oral vaccine will be administered at the Rolling Acres Elementary School. Arrangements for the service are being made by the Jaycees. Richard Selby is coordinator for the local project.

President Paul F. Boller was in charge and gave a progress report on the renovations of the Jaycee room at the Community Center. Members are requested to help finish the floor of the room on Saturday.

There was a discussion on a special observance to be held by the chapter in April, to which the presidents of the local Rotary, Lions, Woman's Community Club and Junior Woman's Clubs are invited to attend. Plans for this affair will be furthered at the next regular meeting of the chapter on Tuesday, March 12, 8 p.m. at the Community Center.

PLAN PRAYER DAY

The public is invited to attend the annual World Day of Prayer service on Friday at 7:30 p.m. in Redeemer's United Church of Christ. The Women's Guild of the host church will be in charge of the service with members of the missionary societies of the community Protestant churches participating. There will be a brief message by the host church pastor, the Rev. Glenn Flinchbaugh.

Christ Ambassadors Youth Service of Bethel Assembly of God Church, along the Littlestown Fish and Game Rd., will meet at the church on Friday, 7:30 p.m.

The Kingsdale Fire Company will sponsor a public party at 8 p.m. on Friday in the engine house, along the Littlestown-Taneytown Rd. Prizes will be awarded and refreshments will be available.

SURPRISE PARTY
A beginners' sewing class will be taught by Mrs. Helen D. Tunison, extension home economist, starting Monday, March 11 at 1:30 p.m. in the Alpha engine house. Homemakers in the vicinity are invited to enroll by calling the extension office, 334-3114, or Mrs. J. Scott Zanger, N. Queen St. At this class, techniques in cutting, laying out patterns and use of the sewing machine will be stressed.

ning at the parsonage with Mrs. William C. Karns as hostess. The program included a song service, accompanied by Mrs. Malcolm E. Hess; responsive reading, led by Mrs. George W. Strevig; readings by Mrs. Strevig, Mrs. George Trump, Mrs. Walter Yingling and Mrs. Joseph Selby. Routine business was in charge of Mrs. Trump, president, who heard the report of Mrs. Lloyd Spangler, secretary. Plans were made to have a hot social in connection with the next meeting on Tuesday, March 26 at the home of Mrs. Trump, near town. The session concluded with the Lord's Prayer in unison. A white elephant party was featured during the social hour. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Karns. The weekly public party of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Fraternal

Order of Eagles, Littlestown Aerie No. 2226 will be held at 8 p.m. on Friday in the social room of the FOE Home, W. King St.

Tigers won 12 of their last 15 American League games to finish fourth last season. The team's 85 wins gave Manager Bob Schefling a 196-137 record for his two seasons in Detroit.

RED PREMIER HOPES TO STILL CHINA FURORE

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
Premier Khrushchev's latest pronouncements in the interminable dialogue with Red China may mean a Peking-Moscow meeting to explore the painful split in the world Communist front.

This does not mean the rift is closing but rather that Khrushchev is anxious to remove the war of words from public view and take it backstage.

In his attempt to accomplish this, Khrushchev has applied the soft answer to turn away Red Chinese wrath.

WILL HELP REDS

Only hours after Peking had lashed him violently, demanding an apology for his attitude in the quarrel over how world communism should be advanced, Khrushchev replied with notable mildness.

He reminded the Red Chinese—and those who side with Peking—that only Moscow is strong enough to go to their aid should they be in danger. He said he would be willing to go to the aid of any Communist country attacked by "the imperialists." But he thoughtfully singled out by name Cuba, Red China, North Viet Nam, North Korea and East Germany.

FARS PAPER TIGERS

The Communist parties of North Viet Nam and North Korea side with Peking in the quarrel. They support the Red Chinese contention that Khrushchev fears paper tigers and thus sacrifices opportunities for communism to advance swiftly, particularly in the backward areas of Latin America, Asia, Africa and the Middle East.

East Germany's Communist leadership has been nagging Khrushchev on the issue of West Berlin, which he virtually promised four years ago to deliver to them. And Cuba, of course, was included in this blanket pledge of Soviet protection for a specific purpose.

WHITE FEATHER

The Red Chinese claim Khrushchev showed the white feather last October by agreeing to withdraw Soviet missiles from Cuba after the Kennedy blockade showdown.

Patently Khrushchev repeated in his speech to a Kremlin election rally Wednesday that he did what he did to "arrest the oncoming avalanche of thermonuclear war." He said he had definitely not "left heroic Cuba at the mercy of the big sharks of American imperialism." He assured Cuba of Soviet support in any "hour of need."

Still speaking softly, Khrushchev cautioned his critics in the Red world that communism's enemies are using and exaggerating their quarrel. He expressed confidence that the Communist parties there would find a way to patch up their differences.

Peking belligerently says it is ready for a private meeting to talk things over. Peking wants a backdown from Khrushchev, an admission that he has been wrong and has been an ardent "revisionist" all along. The Communist Chinese will not get any such thing.

Mao Tse-tung has had a meeting with the Soviet ambassador in Peking. Sitting in on the meeting were other high-ranking Chinese Reds, including Wu Hsiuchuan, the Central Committee member who was subjected to boos and catcalls in the East Berlin meeting of world Communists in January.

It seems reasonable to conclude that they were talking about arrangements for a high-level Kremlin-Peking meeting and the terms for it.

Stamp News

By SYD KRONISH

Many nations throughout the world are planning to issue special stamps to commemorate the United Nations' "Freedom from Hunger" campaign. The U.N. Postal Department has announced that it will issue its own "Freedom from Hunger" stamp on March 22. It will be the second U.N. commemorative stamp of the year. The new issue will come in two denominations—5c green and yellow, and 11c maroon and yellow. Featured will be stalks of wheat with the U.N. emblem in the lower left hand corner. The wording "Freedom from Hunger" will appear in English below the illustration. The designer of the new stamp is Ole Hamann of Denmark.

The purpose of the program sponsored by the United Nations is to publicize the deepening universal concern for the economic and social imbalances of the world today and to reflect the hopeful vision of a future with economic freedom and social justice for all. First day covers for the stamps may be obtained by sending requests to U.N. Postal Administration in New York City. Remittances to cover cost of the stamps will be affixed must be in either a money order or certified check. Envelopes should be sent as soon as possible in view of the March 22 date of issuance.

In order to accommodate a person consumes some 33 tons of food.

ting "Freedom from Hunger" stamps, a new and special album for these issues will be produced by the Washington Press. Section one of the album, which will be released in a few months, will have space for all stamps released up to press time. The second section will follow a few months later.

West Germany has honored the Cralog Organization (a combined action committee of 20 American charities) and Care by issuing a new 20 pf stamp, reports the World Wide Philatelic Agency. The new stamp shows a mother and child receiving a gift parcel and bears the inscription in German "Germany thanks Cralog and Care." This stamp is the first commemorative of 1963 for West Germany.

Fiji has commemorated the visit of Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip by overprinting the three pence and one shilling denominations of their current issue with the words "Royal Visit 1963." This new issue was reported by the Crown Agents representative of Washington, D. C.

The Philippines has issued a pair of semipostal stamps. One features Dr. Jose Rizal playing chess. The other illustrates Dr. Rizal fencing. Each stamp is in two colors. The announcement was made by Postmaster General Enrico Palomar.

During the average lifetime a person consumes some 33 tons of food.

Says PT Boat Was Lost In Ineffective Action In War

BOSTON (AP)—The World War II action in which the patrol boat commanded by then Lt. John Fitzgerald Kennedy was sunk is described in an official history as confused and ineffective.

The book released Tuesday by the director of naval history was written by Capt. Robert J. Bulkeley Jr. and carries a foreword by President Kennedy.

Titled "At Close Quarters," it covers the operations of Navy PT boats in World War II including the exploits of PT Skipper Kennedy.

In his foreword, Kennedy says: "PT boats filled an important need in World War II in shallow waters, complementing the achievements of greater ships in greater seas. The need for small, fast, versatile, strongly armed ships does not wane."

Bulkeley, who died while his manuscript was on its way to the Government Printing Office, in no way detracts from previous accounts of Kennedy's heroism.

The book tells how on Aug. 1-2, 1943, a squadron of 15 American PT boats was on the prowl to intercept four Japanese destroyers in the Blackett Strait off Kolombangara Island in the Southwest Pacific.

It describes the ramming and sinking of Lt. Kennedy's PT-109 by the Japanese destroyer Amagiri in this way:

"This was perhaps the most confused and least effectively executed action the PTs had been in. Eight PTs fired 30 torpedoes. The only confirmed results are the loss of PT-109 and damage to the Japanese destroyer Amagiri."

"The Amagiri was not hit by a torpedo, but vibrated so badly after ramming the 109 that she was unable to proceed at high speed."

"The chief fault of the PTs was that they didn't pass the word. Each boat attacked independently, leaving the others to discover the enemy for themselves."

Believe Venus Is A Dry, Sandy Desert, 800 Degree Heat, Waterless Clouds

By JOHN BARBOUR
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — On earth's dead sister, Venus, it must be a lonely, dark world of dry, sandy desert with 800-degree heat. And above, always the burden of heavy, nearly waterless clouds.

Such was the grim picture scientists gave Tuesday from the reports of radar contact from earth and the close-up look by space-exploring Mariner II.

There was certainly no hope for life on the surface if the temperatures indeed were 800 degrees Fahrenheit—200 degrees higher than the melting point of lead, nearly 600 degrees higher than the boiling point of water.

CHANCE FOR LIFE

But perhaps up above—in those dark clouds, there was still a chance for some simple form of life. National Aeronautics and Space Administration scientists said.

Radar beams aimed at the planet from earth—while Mariner was heading for its rendezvous last Dec. 14—seemed to feel out a sandy or dusty surface on Venus.

That doesn't preclude the possibility that there are molten pools or lakes on the planet, too. The intense heat on Venus is caused by two factors—the nearness to the sun, and probably to a greenhouse effect.

HEAT IS RETAINED

Just as the panes of glass in a greenhouse admit sunlight but keep in heat, so is the heat retained on Venus—probably by carbon dioxide in the atmosphere. The clouds probably shield Venus' surface from some of the sun's radiation. To a person standing on the surface, there would not be too much difference from the sunlight to the dark side of the planet.

Radar encountered a bright spot—just 7 o'clock on the disc it observed, and near the center. This bright spot might be a surface feature of some kind—perhaps a mountain or ocean.

FIND COLD SPOT

Mariner, in flying by at 21,000 miles, also found a strange break in the uniformity of the clouds that shroud the planet. That was a sudden and definable cold spot in the clouds near the planet's south pole. It might also mean that some large surface feature lies beneath, a scientist speculated, perhaps a mountain.

As for the clouds, they might range from 45 miles above the surface of the planet to 60 miles at their highest.

The clouds are likely a sort of smog—a layer of condensed hydrocarbons, a scientist speculated.

A Lovelier You

FINGERS OR FORKS. A lovely writes: Members of my bridge-luncheon club have decided to limit the menus to finger foods, so as to simplify serving.

But I think such meals will become either dull or messy. Other than sandwiches, what can be comfortable eaten in the fingers? Ammunition for rebuttal, please.

The Answer: Aside from sandwiches the list is pretty much confined to canapes, whole artichokes, corn on the cob, cookies, cake, bread, rolls, candy, pickles, olives and fresh fruit. And some of those foods lose their finger status when they are served at a dining table.

Then a slice of cake, served as a dessert, needs to be eaten with a fork. At any time, a fork should be provided with sticky cake. Whole fresh fruit, appearing as dessert, requires fork-and-knife service in order to neatly quarter a piece before eating it in the fingers.

Pickles become the target of a fork when served with meat. Getting to the heart of a whole artichoke is impossible without a fork and knife.

Two items not yet mentioned are sometimes taken in the fingers by people of informal persuasion. They are asparagus spears and meat bones. But for the sake of tidiness, the first should be eaten with a fork. Bones, other than spare ribs, should have the meat cut off, then be left on the plate.

Where all this leaves a finger-food luncheon group is probably with a change of rules. For varied menus and the enjoyment thereof, silverware is not often dispensable.

YELLOWSTONE ELK MULTIPLY INTO PROBLEM

By PAUL ALBRIGHT

YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK, Wyo. (AP)—Possibly no population explosion anywhere has stirred such concentrated controversy as that which has been occurring in a remote valley in the extreme northwest corner of Wyoming.

There, in a section of Yellowstone National Park, range the 5,000 animals in the northern Yellowstone elk herd—unaware of the problems they are creating for themselves, other wildlife and humans hundreds of miles away.

noise and popularity, send for our booklet, WINNING MANNERS. Topics included are Introductions, Invitations, Table Manners, The Charming Hostess, You — The Guest, Dating Manners, Formal Dances, Travel Tips and Tipping, Small Points, like when to wear a hat or check your coat. For your copy, write Mary Sue Miller, Box 158, The Gettysburg Times, Dundee, Ill., enclosing 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

©1963, Field Enterprises, Inc.

For 30 years the increasing elk herd has been a source of irritation to the National Park Service, states surrounding the wilderness park and thousands of sportsmen.

CONTROL A PROBLEM

The dispute is over how to control the size of the herd and keep it in line with what the park service thinks is desirable for the animals' wellbeing, the preservation of natural forage and the enjoyment of tourists who swarm through the park.

The issue reached a bitter climax last winter when 5,000 elk were slaughtered in their winter feeding grounds. New outcries followed an announcement that this winter's required reduction of 1,800 head had been completed. The reduction included shooting of 400 elk by park rangers.

Now, the air has been allowed to clear somewhat and observers feel a solution is closer than at any time in the past three years when the heavy reduction program began.

NO UNDERSTANDING YET

But as Wyoming Gov. Cliff Hansen says, much still needs to be done before there is really an understanding between the National Park Service, which runs the park, and the surrounding states and various sportsmen's groups. Montana Gov. Tim Babcock said he hopes this winter marks the end of elk shooting inside Yellowstone.

The elk range both in and outside the park in small bands during good weather, usually high in the mountains and rarely within sight of any human eyes.

But in winter, the elk are driven to lower elevations by the snows and gather on 125,000 acres in the Lamar River Valley in northwestern Yellowstone park to wait for spring. There the problem begins. The elk are ravenous eaters. Whitetail deer and beaver are almost extinct in the park because the elk destroy their feed.

Finally, an agreement was reached whereby a migration study could be started so that more could be learned of elk movements and perhaps increase the kill by hunters outside the park.

There also was agreement on a stepped-up trapping and transplanting program. Wyoming said it would take all the elk it could get.

PORTSOY, Scotland (AP) — Parishioners arriving at Portsoy Church on Sunday mornings now get a hot cup of tea and a chocolate biscuit before they take their place in the pew.

Treasurer William Morris said: "The heating in the church is not good, and the tea keeps the congregation warm."

The tea and biscuits are paid for out of funds raised by the church youth club.

Reversible Pews Serve Two Churches

KEYSTONE, Neb. (AP) — Fifty-four years ago the town of Keystone needed a church.

In a rare display of togetherness, townsfolk built a "combination" church to serve both Protestants and Catholics.

At one end was a Catholic altar; at the other, a Protestant altar.

Pews with reversible backs were installed.

For Catholic Mass, parishioners faced the Catholic altar.

Then pews were flipped over and the congregation faced the Protestant altar.

The church, with a seating capacity of 70 to 75, remained in use until about 1948.

It still stands as a monument to Catholic-Protestant amity and is put to use occasionally for graduation exercises.

Keystone has only one regularly used church now, a Presbyterian Church. But women of the Keystone Ladies Library Club keep the combination church spick and span.

Tourists who want to visit the unique church in this North Platte River Valley hamlet (population 35) are directed to Howard Hayes, owner of the general store and keeper of the keys.

USIA POLLS IN OTHER LANDS ARE RELEASED

By LEWIS GULICK
WASHINGTON (AP) — After prodding by Congress and the press, the U.S. Information Agency has finally stripped the secrecy labels from some of its polls of public opinion in other lands.

But any bitter taste of controversy had been aged out of them. All are at least a year old.

How did some of the foreign countries regard President Kennedy? In January 1961 the net favorable opinion of those polled concerning Kennedy, then newly elected, ranged from 92 per cent in Lima to 34 per cent in New Delhi. The net opinion of Soviet Premier Khrushchev ranged from plus 53 per cent in New Delhi to minus 68 per cent in Saigon.

All in all, newsmen were handed 34 studies sampling foreigners' views on such subjects as Fidel Castro, American women, the U.S. library at Battamban, radio listening in Taiwan and you-name-it.

NO NEWS IMPACT

The findings had little current news impact. USIA offered to show its polls of previous years too, but had no immediate takers.

USIA Chief Edward R. Murrow called the policy of releasing the polls "a significant departure" and promised to make more polls public—but not until they are at least a year old.

The agency says the reason for delay is to avoid releasing the polls while they are still fresh enough to damage U.S. foreign relations, for instance by embarrassing the government where the poll was taken.

The new USIA policy was announced by Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., after an inquiry by his House Government Information Subcommittee. Moss hailed the action as a step for freedom of information.

KEEP SECRET

Under the new system, Murrow said USIA will: (1) Supply its polls to congressional committees and ask they keep the material secret; (2) Make public after one year its polls classified "for official use only" and after two years those stamped with the higher classification "confidential."

As to what some of the poll found:

February 1961—Urban opinion of Castro in seven Latin American countries ranged from 3 per cent rating him "very good" in Argentina to only 1 per cent in Mexico. The Cuban prime minister ranked "very bad" with 16 per cent polled in Mexico up to 40 per cent in Peru. Those never having heard of Castro ranged from 1 per cent among Venezuelan city dwellers to 86 per cent among Brazilian country folk.

September 1960—Western Europeans have a net favorable opinion of women's activities in the United States. Some Europeans admire American women for their vitality and independence. Others call them bad housewives and domineering.

December 1960—Montevideans' esteem for President Eisenhower rose after his visit to Uruguay but the image of the United States as a friend of Uruguay declined.

Jet Stream Is Blamed For Colder Winter

By SID MOODY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

This winter the weather really HAS been something to talk about. The mercury has spent the season sliding up and down the thermometer, a chilled red blob at the bottom of the tube one day and bubbling towards the top the next. Why?

The weather bureau blames it on that element of nature that sounds as if it had been named by an airline publicity department, the jet stream.

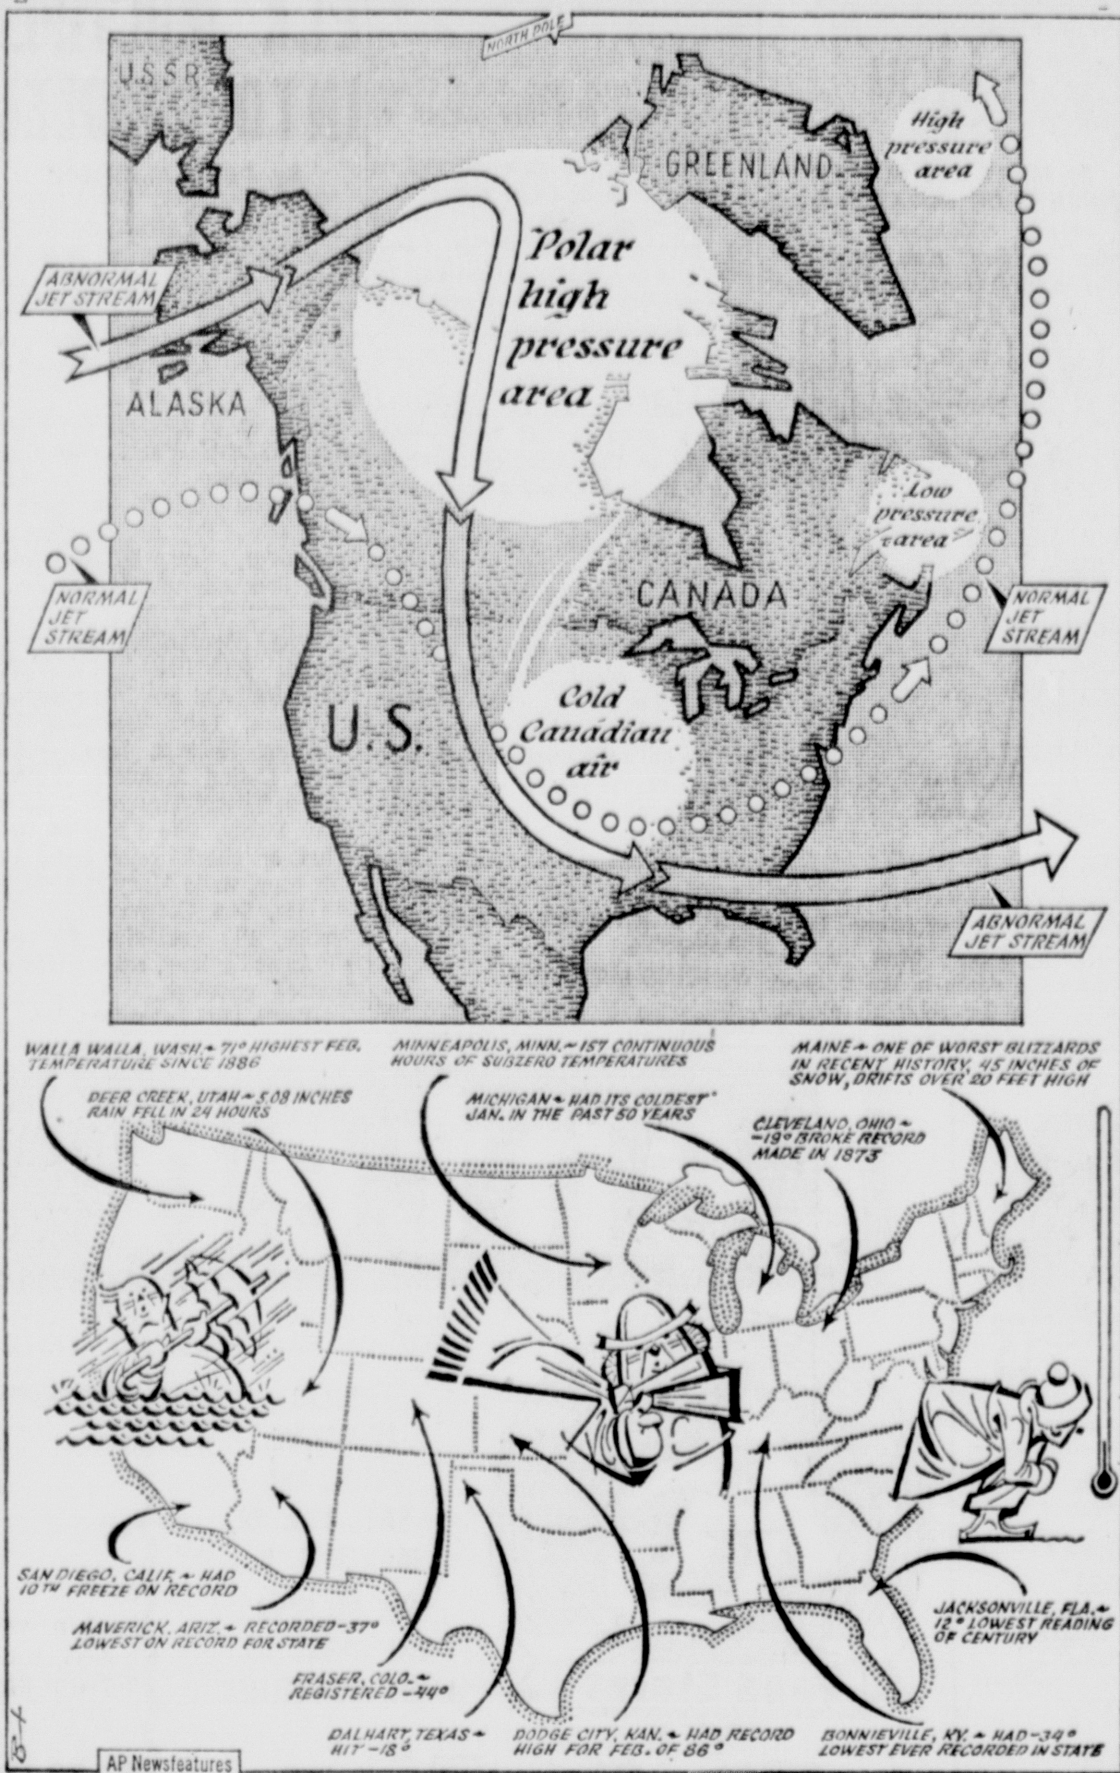

The jet stream, the bureau reasons, has been pushed further north than usual which has made it colder when it finally bent south over the North American land mass.

GETS COLDER

Air has always been coming down from the polar areas but the further north it goes the colder it gets. This season the jet stream moving northeast over the Pacific has been pushed even further north than usual by a persistent high pressure area lying almost motionless off the west coast.

The warm Pacific air has been shouldered into Alaska by this high. In turn the colder Alaskan air has been displaced to the north where it got even colder before turning south. That's why on some days this winter it was colder—much—in Phoenix, Ariz., than in Anchorage, Alaska.

Moving out over the Atlantic the chilling air ran into another high south of Greenland, was deflected northward again before descending with gales, snow and record cold on a chattering Europe.

HEAVY SNOWFALL

Yet just when things appeared to be congealed for good, a dose of warmer air would break through. Thus Sioux City, Iowa, enjoyed a balmy 64 degrees last December 10—a late season record—at the same time Muskegon, Mich., was engulfed by 13 inches of snow, a 24-hour record fall.

In western Kansas things went from the frigid to the sublime in only four days. The temperature was 9 below zero in the area January 27. On February 1 Dodge City had a tropical 86, a record for the month there.

Three days later it was 71 in Walla Walla, Wash., hotter than it's ever been there in February since 1886.

NOT ROUTINE WINTER

The first hint that this was going to be more than a routine winter arrived December 17—before winter itself—when residents all over the southeastern United States awoke with a chill. It was as low as -17 in Kentucky, 17 in New Orleans, 1 in Atlanta,

-7 in Nashville and 12 in Jacksonville, Fla., the lowest recorded there in this century.

A few days later Washington, like it or not, had the whitest Christmas since such matters were first taken down in 1883. There were 5.4 inches of snowfall.

New Year's Eve Maine in particular and New England in general were struck by one of the worst blizzards in recent times. Winds blew just under hurricane force and piled drifts up to 20 feet.

HAD 10TH FREEZE

On January 14 San Diego had only the 10th freeze in its history. The day before Maverick (where else?), Ariz., recorded -37. It had never been that cold before in Arizona at any time, records show.

Dalhousie, Tex. saw the mercury sink to -18 and the Rio Grande valley fruit and vegetable farmers had a bite of the same frost that had caused millions of dollars of crop losses in Florida.

Even the lush Imperial Valley in California was tinged with freezing weather January 21, the same day Black River Falls, Wis., had the misfortune to arise to -50 temperatures. It was -24 in Milwaukee, coldest there in 12 years.

LONG COLD SPELL

A week later Minneapolis had 157 hours of subzero cold—second longest such period in its history. Residents could think back warmly to a balmy time seven weeks earlier when it was 62 in Rochester, Minn., 14 degrees over the previous high for the date.

Early February saw average temperatures in the Midwest as much as 18 degrees below normal. A week later the averages were 10 to 25 degrees above normal.

Europe, meanwhile, was getting blizzards in the north, mudslides and continuous rains in the south and avalanches in between.

Back in Louisville, Ky., they had the coldest Washington's Birthday—1 above—in recorded history and so did Pittsburgh, Newark, N. J., Albany, N. Y., Richmond, Va. and many more. Spring seemed far behind.

THOMAS E. PIPER
Area Marketing Agent

The Lenten season, which began on Wednesday of this week, promises to exert considerable influence on retail foodmarket activities in the weeks ahead, observes Tom Piper, Penn State Extension Marketing Agent. Being aware of the Lenten restrictions observed by some families, many retailers will develop store features around foods appropriate to the season.

All dairy products, eggs and many sea food items are in plentiful supply and subject to promotion in the weeks ahead. March will be observed by many retailers as National Egg Month, Fish and Sea Food Time and Good Breakfast Month. Foodshoppers can profit from the food values offered during these special merchandising events.

Livestock markets continue well supplied at barely steady to slightly lower prices. Better buys will appear in pork roasts, chops, hams and bacon and in beef chuck and round roast with some stores promoting steaks. Poultry supplies are moderate and retail prices may vary considerably, depending upon the promotional plans of individual stores.

Fresh fruit and vegetable supplies continue to be hampered by the consistent poor winter growing conditions that started in January. Best values in fresh vegetables will be found in sweet potatoes, carrots, onions, mushrooms and potatoes. Endive, escarole, broccoli, and radishes are fairly good buys. Prices have dropped on iceberg lettuce and cauliflower but quality is irregular and careful selection is recommended.

Apples and pears remain in adequate supply. These fresh fruits are supplemented by the higher priced bananas, grapes, strawberries and imported fruits. The limited volume of good quality citrus fruit is disappearing fast and wholesalers predict the season will end in early April.

Processed red tart cherries, rice, peanuts and peanut products, canned corn, tomato products, spaghetti and tuna fish are better values in the grocery department this week.

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — If bird-watchers will now fix their attention on that wise old owl, Premier Khrushchev, they may see him try to feather his nest.

The Russians could probably embarrass Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who said Tuesday a Soviet presence in Cuba "cannot be accepted," if they asked him a simple question: What are you going to do about it?

At this time in the frustrated American government it is unlikely anyone has a firm or even clear idea how to force the Soviet troops out of Cuba or persuade Khrushchev to take them out.

SERVE SEVERAL PURPOSES

He has promised to withdraw some of the 17,000 men President Kennedy says are on the island. But it's doubtful Khrushchev will pull them all out. They serve several purposes, one now and maybe others later.

Now—So long as they're on the island they discourage an anti-Castro invasion either by Cuban refugees, backed by the United States, or directly by American forces. An attack on Cuba would be an attack on them. It could mean war.

Later — The longer their presence frustrates Americans, the more Khrushchev may hope to make a deal: to remove them if the United States will do the same with some of its forces which are frustrating the Russians somewhere else.

BERLIN BIG PRICE

Berlin is an example, although that would be a big price for the United States to pay after all its promises to defend the city.

For five years Khrushchev has been demanding the Allies remove their forces from Berlin which is 100 miles inside Communist East Germany and is one of the biggest Soviet blemishes in the cold war.

If Khrushchev pulled his troops out of Cuba—because of a deal on Berlin or somewhere else—it would mean leaving Fidel Castro fairly defenseless against invasion.

NEEDS BERLIN REDS

But it might be worth it to the Russians, particularly in the case of Berlin, since the East German Communists are far more important to Russia than the far-off Communists of Castro, a comparative handful.

Or — Khrushchev may wish to keep his troops in Cuba until he compels the United States—as the price for their removal — to permit an invasion of Cuba, direct or otherwise.

Since Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has said the Soviet troops in Cuba are not a direct menace now to this country, and Castro certainly isn't, no invasion could be justified in world opinion.

RED ARGUMENTS

This is particularly so since Khrushchev can argue:

1. His troops in Cuba are not invaders. They're there by invitation of Castro who, whether anyone likes it or not, is the boss of Cuba.

2. The United States can hardly feel outraged by Soviet troops in Cuba when it has military forces around the edges of Russia and Khrushchev has never attempted

BILLS ASK STATE SONG, DOG, POEM

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

HARRISBURG (AP) — Picture a Pennsylvanian sitting against the stately hemlock, admiring the mountain laurels while whitetail deer run nearby and ruffed grouse wing overhead.

He has no dog by his side, poem in hand or music from his portable radio that enjoy the same official status as the above mentioned objects.

They are by acts of the General Assembly over the last 32 years, in order, the state tree, the state flower, the state animal and the state bird.

The whitetail deer received official status in the 1959 session; the others were designated in the 1931 and 1933 sessions.

DOG, POEM, SONG

The absence of a state dog, poem or song is considered by many an oversight and, perhaps, a challenge.

Thus, the 1963 legislature has received bills proposing either the great dane or the beagle as the state dog and two contestants for the honor of state song.

Tuesday, a bill was introduced in the House to designate a poem written by Gerald G. Dovenspike, identified only as a Pennsylvanian, as the state poem.

Its title is, "Pennsylvania." Like the dog bills and the song bills, it has been before the legislature before.

History indicates they will remain in committee, although there may be some diversions provided from them.

EXPECT KENNEL

In the past, an influential legislator has been able to persuade the officers of the House to wheel a piano down to the front of the chamber to hear a rendition of a candidate for state song.

Lobbyists for one of the contenders for state dog may turn the legislature halls into a temporary kennel for one day.

In recent times, at least, poetry reading in the legislature has been confined to more traditional works that lend themselves to political oratory.

Dovenspike's work, advanced by Reps. George W. Alexander, R-Clinton, and Marion L. Munley, D-Lackawanna, is a tribute to the state's scenery and history. It is 28 lines, four stanzas.

Neither the House nor the Senate was in session today.

They held abbreviated meetings Tuesday.

The major activity was in the House where three bills were passed, Five Scranton administration proposals approved in committees, one, proposal sent back to committee and debate about the relative activity or inactivity of the 1963 session.

COCKER FOLLOWS

Master To Roof

CARMI, Ill. (AP) — Contractor Roy Kiser's cocker spaniel, Inky, tags along wherever Kiser goes — and that includes rooftops at times.

Inky rears on its hind legs, grabs the second rung of the ladder with its forelegs, then lifts its hind legs, one by one, to the first rung. Then it grabs the third rung, etc., repeating the process all the way up the ladder.

When you pan-fry thin lamb chops, remove them from the skillet as soon as they're cooked and keep them warm. Add a little bouillon to the drippings in the pan and make a "natural" gravy to serve with the chops. Excess fat in the skillet should, of course, be poured off before preparing the gravy.

Arizona Hunters Slightly Confused

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Arizona hunters just don't know where they stand. On the same day, they were condemned by cattlemen and praised by the forest service.

The cattlemen said hunters had cut fences, knocked down gates, shot up water tanks, left garbage and debris in their wake and shot cows, horses and mules.

An official with the Tonto National Forest said there was not one man-caused fire during the hunting season.

When you are making a cake from a mix, be sure to use the size of pan specified on the package — usually a choice of pans are given. To determine the size of your pans, measure the diameter of round pans, and the top inside length and width of rectangular pans.

'ARMORY SHOW' OF MODERN ART 50 YEARS OLD

By MILES A. SMITH
AP Arts Editor

It was just 50 years ago, on February 17, that the American public caught its first real, dizzying look at modern art, the results were no less than explosive.

The event has gone into the art history books under the name of the "Armory Show." And now we have a faithful recreation of that momentous event, thanks to the Munson-Williams-Proctor Institute of Utica, N. Y., and Joseph S. Trovato of that organization.

Back in 1913 the situation was this: Only a relative handful of American artists and collectors was even aware of such movements as post Impressionism, Fauvism, Cubism, etc.

HOUSEHOLD NAMES

Nowadays such figures as Van Gogh, Gauguin, Cezanne, Matisse, Braque and Picasso are practically household names. But at that time a mention of any of them would have drawn an absolute blank in most quarters.

Under these circumstances, a couple of dozen American artists who had been experimenting with new artistic approaches decided to hold a show. To enliven the presentation of their own works they brought in many examples of the French school. Arthur B. Davies, Walt Kuhn and Elmer Livingston MacFae were on the show committee.

They called it an "International Exhibition of Modern Art," but because it was held in the 60th Regiment Armory in Manhattan, it soon got the title of "Armory Show."

At this distance in time it is difficult to realize how electrical and violent the reaction was — to the committee's surprise. The show caught the public's fancy, not as an art event but as something freakish and weird. In four weeks, 125,000 persons bought tickets, and most of them came to mock and jeer.

FEW APPROVED

A few New York critics gave cautious approval, but others foamed like the public. A particular target of derision was Marcel Duchamp's second version of "Nude Descending a Staircase," now in the Philadelphia Museum of Art. One viewer scathingly likened it to an explosion in a shingle factory.

But, unmistakably, the show had a great impact on American art. It was taken to Chicago and Boston, where it also created furores.

For more than a year Trovato and his aides have been sleuth-ing on the trail of hundreds of items that were in that show, and from February 17 through March 31 about 300 of the original 1,300 works are being shown at the Munson-Williams-Proctor Institute.

RECREATE SHOW

Then from April 6 through 28 the "Armory Show" will be recreated at the original site in Manhattan.

Van Gogh's "Mademoiselle Ravoux," Braque's "L'Affiche de Kubelik," Matisse's "The Red Studio," and Cezanne's "Portrait of Madame C." are among the works to be seen, along with sculptures by Brancusi and Lempicka. Among the Americans there are such paintings as George Bellows' "Circus" and William Glackens' "Family Group." Along with the Duchamp nude, of course.

Tracing the 1913 items involved a mountain of work. Fortunately Kuhn left some papers identifying many of the items, and through his daughter Brenda and the Archives of American Art some of the puzzles were solved.

TRACE WORK

"The present location of a work by Redon was traced in a rather unexpected manner," says Trovato. "Ira Glackens — son of William — sent on to me a sketch of a Redon that was shown in 1913. This hung around the house for quite some time until my wife happened to spot that same picture reproduced in 'Woman's Day' magazine in an article on flower paintings. A letter to the editor of the magazine gave us the name of the owner of the painting."

Or take the case of Daumier's "Third Class Carriage." There were three versions in museums — in Montreal, the Walters Gallery in Baltimore and the Metropolitan Museum of Art. But the 1913 version?

"Finally," said Trovato, "we were given a name to write to in London, who in turn referred us back to the States, where we located the original 1913 work in a private collection."

FOUND A WINNER

FLORAL PARK, N. Y. (AP) — Jim Fraley, the man who first coached Olympic discus champion Al Oerter, competed in the decathlon at Emporia State Teachers College in Kansas but says "discus was my poorest event."

Fraley has been track coach at Sewanhaka High School the last 19 years. He first saw Oerter nine years ago.

ANOTHER CAPACITY

RIVERHEAD, N. Y. (AP) — When Joseph K. Corey of nearby Southampton failed to show up before the judge on a charge of violating the weapons laws, his attorney went looking for him. He found Corey in another courtroom in the same building — serving as foreman of a jury hearing a negligence case.

Letters To The Editor

February 23, 1963
Mr. Paul L. Roy, Editor
The Gettysburg Times
Dear Mr. Roy:

Please allow me the opportunity to express my opinion of the very poor selection made by the commission appointed by the Post Office Department to judge the drawings submitted by artists throughout the country, the winning entry from which the reproduction for the printing and issuance of the Battle of Gettysburg Centennial stamp will be made.

Why did not the Post Office Department pick up a pair of scissors and just cut the picture from the front of a guide-book or a brochure, not to mention many other illustrated publications on which a cut very similar to the winning entry is usually printed? It would have saved the taxpayers $500 in prize money, plus other incidental expenses connected with the effort.

USED MANY TIMES

A Union and Confederate soldier in the act of crossing bayonets, upon a background of blue and gray, which can be viewed a thousand times over, not only on commercial publications and Civil War story books, but on road signs all over our great nation along highways leading to the various places where events of that great war took place, absolutely and definitely is not symbolic of the real story of that great war's most decisive battle; such a picture could denote the action at Bull Run, on the Peninsula, at 2nd Manassas, Antietam, Fredericksburg, Chancellorsville, in the Wilderness, at Spotsylvania, at the long Siege of Petersburg, or even right up to the steps of the McClean House at Appomattox; I do not intend to belittle the above-mentioned terrible and bloody engagements in which hundreds of thousands of courageous Americans fought and died, but I am trying to explain that the three-days conflict on our own field of destiny was not just another end-run by one army around the flanks of the other army, with the sole object or end purpose being only to establish position on the bank of one river or the other, as happened in many of the engagements fought in the northern theater of our American Civil War.

NOT PRO ARTIST

Being only a lowly sign-painter by the necessity of earning a living, and not a recognized "Professional Artist" as the Post Office Department's printed qualifications insisted all entrants must be, my works will not be found on display in the most exclusive galleries throughout the world, nor does my reputation as an "artist" extend very far beyond the boundaries of our local historic area, but I am a student of the events that transpired here at Gettysburg during those fateful three-days in July, 1863, when victory or defeat spelled out the future existence of our great nation; I am not qualified to judge the layout, the colors, or the perspective of the winning drawing, but I am possessed of an inherited talent to the extent where I recognize the difference between good work and bad, and whether or not the finished work really represents the true symbolism of the outcome of the conflict that raged around our historic hamlet.

The Army of the Potomac, the most powerful force of all Union armies of the Civil War, was made up of men and boys from the North, each and every one of whom was personally committed to die if necessary to preserve the heritage of freedom, secured by the blood of their forefathers; heretofore poorly-led and badly handled on the field of battle, they were banded together in a spirit of patriotism that the reverses and hardships of war could not break, and their courage and tenacity was attested to in the Confederate commanders' own field reports.

BATTLE HARDENED

The Army of the Potomac's constant adversary was the Confederacy's greatest and most resolute field-force, the Army of Northern Virginia; battle-hardened and victory-flushed, and led by the ablest of the Southern leaders, it was a splendid organization; made up of men and boys from all states of the Confederacy, each and every soldier within its ranks determined to maintain the way of life to which their predecessors were accustomed, and ready and willing to follow their beloved leader blindly to perpetuate that way of life, even if it meant complete dissolution of the United States of America and the hauling down of the Stars and Stripes from every flagpole from Washington, D.C., to the northeastern coast of Maine.

Contrary to the estimates of writers and historians, General Lee did not move his force northward, leaving the road to Richmond wide open, just to eat the ripe cherries of Pennsylvania or drink from the cool waters of the Susquehanna, but his one and only final objective was the overwhelming of the productive North, regardless of the possible collapse of the freedom enjoyed by the people of the Union; he never intended to halt his columns at Harrisburg and call it quits, but, had he been successful in his greatest of end-runs, the Confederate Army would have been calling the shots along the whole eastern seaboard, and we would not be living under the Stars and Stripes to this day.

SLOW DECISION

He was well aware of the slow decisions of General Hooker, and the shackles placed on the Union generals by the high command in Washington, but he did not reckon with the fact that a new and more resolute commander would take over the Army of the Potomac while the Confederates were on the road northward; General Meade stepped up the pace of his marching soldiers and drove them through the dust and heat, the wind and the rain, over the mountains and across the streams, never letting up until he found his opponent's army, and he forced General Lee to hurriedly concentrate his forces right here at Gettysburg, with the avowed intent of defeating the gray host once and for all; the boys in blue were exhausted from the forced marching, but they entered into the conflict with a determination that has been appreciated by all Americans down through the years, and they fought with a courage that only free Americans can fight; the soldiers in gray fought with an equal courage and tenacity, but in vain; the complete defeat of the Army of Northern Virginia at Gettysburg turned the tide of the great war and saved America! That defeat was the beginning of the deterioration of the South's finest army, and that deterioration continued right on to Appomattox, where General Lee was forced to surrender the remnants of his once-splendid fighting force, thus bringing to an end the terrible conflict; the Stars and Stripes continued to fly over this great nation, and it still flies, announcing to the whole world that we are a united nation and intend to remain free and united! Why? Because the Union was victorious at Gettysburg! For this reason I am of the opinion that the picture of two soldiers crossing bayonets on a background of blue and gray does not signify the real Gettysburg, nor the results of the battle fought here; a stamp that 170 million Americans will see and use during the year of the 100th anniversary of the great and decisive Battle of Gettysburg should be far more symbolic of the preservation of our union and freedom.

I attempted to put the idea into a drawing myself, but not being a recognized "professional" artist, I discarded the idea; it really surprised me that the commission accepted the particular entry as the winner; they should have made a more thorough study of the meaning of the Battle of Gettysburg, and the qualifications of entry into the contest should have been made more lenient by the Post Office Department; it is my opinion that many amateur artists should have been permitted to enter the contest.

Amen Re-elected To Wheat Group

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP) — Central Washington wheat growers said "Amen."

The Ritzville farmer, Otto Amen by name, was overwhelmingly re-elected to the Washington Wheat Commission. He was given 1,275 votes to 138 for his opponent.

Amen represents five counties, in the state's District 4.

EAST ALTON, Ill. (AP) — Miss Gayle Bauer, a Southern Illinois University coed, had her studies interrupted recently.

Her uncle swallowed her contact lenses.

Her uncle, Paul Bauer, was visiting at his niece's home and decided to take a drink of water. He saw Gayle with a glass of water and reached for it. Before Gayle could shout "stop," he gulped down the water and lenses.

Miss Bauer has a new set of contact lenses. She keeps them in a new safety container.

MAN ACCUSED OF EXTORTION

WALDORF, Md. (AP) — William Edward Park, a free lance car salesman from Pennsylvania, has been charged with trying to extort $2,500 from a prominent socialite accused in the caning death of a barmaid.

Park, 39, of Toughkenamon, Pa. was charged Wednesday. He was seized the day before by state policemen at the home of William D. Zantinger.

Zantinger is awaiting grand jury action in the caning death of a barmaid at the fashionable spinners ball in Baltimore Feb. 9.

The wealthy tobacco farmer told police he had received a call from Park who said he could get charges against Zantinger reduced for a $2,500 fee.

With a state policeman along posing as a relative, Zantinger met Park last Wednesday and arranged for another meeting Tuesday at Zantinger's estate.

America with freckles

There's nothing in America that typifies the country, and its philosophies, more than the newspaperboy. Call him what you may; newspaperboy, paper carrier or capitalist in sneaks, he stands for America and the "free enterprise" system.

He's a retailer, a salesman, an accountant and a business firm all rolled into one. The newspaperboy earns his own spending money, while providing a valuable service to his community. He learns, at an early age, to be both independent and dependable.

In the newspaperboy, we see responsibility recognized and accepted with the same youthful vitality that has been the backbone of our country since its conception. He is America with freckles, in today's newspaperboy lives tomorrow's America.

Prohibition Is Floating Across Kansas Once More

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—The prohibition movement is rolling across Kansas again, staunchly supported by the prairie churches which won the first ban-the-booze battle 80 years ago.

Encouraged by success this year in trouncing an attempt to liberalize state liquor laws, the Kansas United Dry Forces are zealously promoting a return to prohibition.

In 1880 Kansas became the first state to outlaw the sale of liquor. That constitutional amendment withstood all challenges until 1948, when the voters repealed it in favor of package stores.

DRYS KILL BILL

This year, hotel and motel operators, trying to attract more tourists and conventions to Kansas, got a bill introduced in the legislature to permit sale of liquor by the drink. The drys raised such a fuss that the bill didn't even get out of committee. Now the drys have introduced a bill for a referendum on reinstituting prohibition.

Leading the campaign against legal liquor is the Rev. Roy E. Hollomon, a retired Baptist minister who has been jousting with John Barleycorn most of his life. Hollomon came to Kansas 12 years ago from Oklahoma, where he was active in an unsuccessful campaign to retain prohibition.

HAS $10,000 FUND

Hollomon says he has allocated $10,000 for radio and television broadcasts to win support for the new dry campaign. The money comes from individuals and Methodists, which still regard repeal of national prohibition as a calamity.

Although many observers believe Hollomon will not win committee approval of his bill, proponents of legal liquor fear the drys' strength in the prairie villages.

The Kansas Legislature, like that of most states, is dominated by representatives from rural areas who fear a proliquor vote would be difficult to defend at the polls.

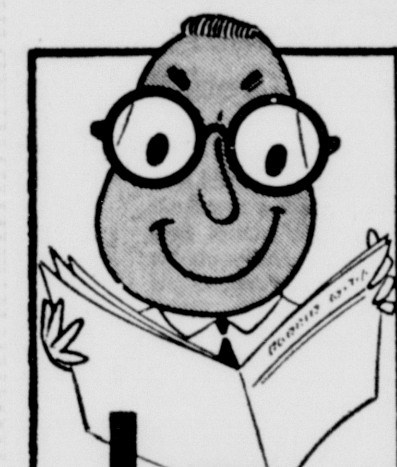

The legislative struggle begins in earnest next Tuesday when the House State Affairs Committee holds its first public hearing on the prohibition bill.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Alejandro Lavorante still is in a coma, more than five months after he was knocked out by Johnny Riggins. But the Argentine heavyweight can now open one eye a little.

Boxing promoter George Parnass said after a visit to California Lutheran Hospital Tuesday that Lavorante is about 20 pounds heavier than he was before his knockout here last Sept. 21.

Doctors still don't know whether Lavorante will regain full consciousness.

SECRET ARMY CHIEFTAIN IS UNDER ARREST

By RICHARD K. O'MALLEY

PARIS (AP)—The police explanation of the arrest of Secret Army chieftain Antoine Argoud interrupted the trial Wednesday of 15 persons accused of plotting to assassinate President Charles de Gaulle.

Acting on a defense request, the military tribunal assigned one of its members to interview Argoud and find out what connection he had with the assassination attempt last Aug. 22.

The police in announcing Argoud's capture Tuesday said an anonymous caller told them he had plotted the assassination plot and the Secret Army was turning him over to them in retaliation.

FOUND IN TRUCK

The police said they found the 47-year-old ex-colonel where the caller said they would—trussed up in a truck behind Notre Dame Cathedral.

The police account was the first mention of Argoud's name in connection with the assassination plot. The chief defense attorney, Jean-Louis Tixier Vignancour, demanded that Argoud be brought into court to tell his story.

Tixier Vignancour said if the tribunal refused to produce Argoud, this in effect would admit that the French government is "guilty of international banditry." He was referring to speculation that French secret agents captured Argoud in Germany and slipped him into France, much as Jewish secret agents kidnapped Adolf Eichmann from Argentina.

COURT IS RECESSED

The court recessed the trial until Thursday while Argoud was interviewed.

The police said Argoud told them he had been kidnapped in Munich and brought to Paris to be handed over to them.

The news of Argoud's arrest startled Paris, for he had been extremely successful at keeping out of police hands. He was tried in absentia and sentenced to death for his role in the abortive generals' putsch in Algiers.

Another anonymous caller in Rome telephoned The Associated Press and said Argoud had left there a few days ago for Munich. He claimed Argoud was kidnapped in Munich by French police or special agents.

Scranton Cautions PMA To Avoid "Petty" Fights To Build State's Economy

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Gov. Scranton has called on labor and management to avoid what he terms senseless and tragic infighting and unite to improve the state's economic climate.

Calling for the combined efforts of all groups in the drive for industrial development, Scranton told the state's manufacturers Tuesday night "we are locked in combat with outside competition and can no longer afford . . . petty internal differences."

The old days of special interest government, he said, must be numbered or "Pennsylvania's days will be numbered."

ADDRESSES PMA

The governor appeared before the annual dinner of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association, widely regarded as a major power in the governor's own Republican party.

The annual dinners are traditionally looked to for indications of the way GOP winds are blowing in the state. Last year's came at the peak of bitter party squabbles over a gubernatorial candidate.

Although PMA President James Malone reportedly was strongly opposed to the then only suggested nomination of Scranton, all seemed sweetness and light Tuesday night.

Malone said it was an occasion to "rejoice in the fact this is the first time in eight long years we have had the pleasure of having a Republican governor grace our head table."

And contrary to reports earlier this year of Malone's opposition to some of Scranton's intended legislation, he pledged the governor "the 100 per cent cooperation of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association in anything we can do."

Scranton said his warning of a need to abandon special interest government was not to be taken as opposition to legitimate self-interests.

The realities of the competitive world demand more discretion from everyone, he said, adding: "We must learn where to stand and fight each other and where to stand and fight together."

Happily, he said, there are indications the state is beginning to learn this. Harking back to last fall's campaign, he said: "It was no accident that both sides . . . agreed that industrial development was the number one issue. We were simply reflecting the mood of the people."

Hitting hard at what has been for him a familiar strain, Scranton said the state has fallen far behind its neighbors and a long way from its position as an industrial leader in the nation.

"Remember," he said, "the situation we must now move to correct has been half a century a building."

To correct this situation, Scranton said the administration has mapped a "total war" which include proposals to go to the legislature next week and a personnel campaign already underway.

The legislative proposals hinge, he said, on greater use of community level industrial development efforts and increased cooperation from leaders of business and industry, and mobilization of the entire state government structure.

The governor said in the weeks since inauguration the administration has also undertaken "an historic effort to collect the best available thinking on the subject from all parts of the state."

"LAST DITCH" EFFORT TO END STRIKE FAILS

NEW YORK (AP) — Amid a growing dispute over automation, striking printers and publishers of New York City's nine closed dailies have failed in what was termed a last-ditch effort to end the newspaper blackout, now in its 83rd day.

Further complicating the stalemate, machinists on the nine papers have threatened to strike unless they get a contract satisfactory to them.

The next step is up to Mayor Robert F. Wagner, who announced results of the unsuccessful printer-publisher negotiations after both sides met without him for more than six hours Tuesday at a secret location.

ASKS WRITTEN REPORTS

Wagner, who has been acting as mediator in the contractual dispute since Jan. 26, called for both sides to submit written reports to him today.

"When I receive those reports," he said, "I will announce the next step I will take."

The mayor did not indicate when he would present his own strike settlement recommendation.

In Cleveland, Ohio, where the printers are one of four unions still on strike, the blackout of that city's two newspapers entered its 90th day.

RIFT WIDENING

In New York, the rift between the two sides over automation in the industry continued to widen.

Plans are being made for the Fairfield Firemen's Auxiliary to visit with the Gettysburg Auxiliary on March 11. Anyone wishing to go should be present at the meeting Monday evening or notify the secretary by March 11.

M/Sgt. Ellis Kint, of Captieux, France, has concluded a two-week visit with his family here. Corp. Ellis Kint Jr. is also spending a 25-day furlough from the Marine base in Quantico, Va., with his parents.

Bertram A. Powers, president of striking Local 6 of the AFL-CIO International Typographical union, has classed automation as the No. 2 issue in the contract dispute.

The Washington Post published a letter from Powers Tuesday in which he said his local is willing to accept the use of teletypesetter tape — an automated process for casting lines of newspaper type — provided the union shares in the savings.

Walter N. Thayer, president of the New York Herald Tribune and spokesman for the publishers, replied:

LONG WAIT

"The Associated Press first introduced stock tables in teletypesetter tape in 1952. The only city in the United States in the first 20 population-wise not now using such tape is New York."

"In not one of these other cities has a newspaper paid anything separate to use such tape. He (Powers) is trying to establish a principle 10 years after the fact."

In the Cleveland blackout, a management spokesman reported "slight movement" in negotiations with the striking printers union. A publisher source has said the printers hold the key to resumption of the Plain Dealer and the Press & News.

TV VIEWERS IN NIGERIA TO SEE FIGHT

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — This is an exciting week for the television viewers of Nigeria. They will see their favorite star — Dick Tiger, the local boy who retained his world middleweight boxing championship Saturday night in a draw with Gene Fullmer. Fight films will be shown on the country's one station.

Robert Myers, a vice president of NBC International, currently is stationed in the African nation, helping the Nigerian government establish a television facility. At the moment it consists of the broadcasting station and some boosters to carry programs to three provinces—and a total about 10,000 sets.

SOLD MANY SETS

But even so, Nigerian tastes this early in the experiment in mass communication follow a familiar pattern. Next to Tiger — whose previous fight, shown a few days later on the station, sold a lot of television sets—the most popular programs are reruns of four wn best loved shows, like "Gunsmoke" and "Rawhide."

Children adore any cartoon program. Everybody is fascinated by sports—most of all rugby — although Myers is going to try some not been able to settle down to life in England, especially Britain's socialized medical system, which he said "has completely destroyed the relationship between doctor and patient." He left Tristan da Cunha two years before volcanic eruptions forced its 260 inhabitants to flee to England in 1961.

Leon Goossens, world-famous oboe player whose career once seemed shattered by injuries suffered in an auto crash, said in London, England, that he hopes to return to the concert platform in April.

Goossens, 65, had 150 stitches in mouth wounds after the crash last year. He lost all his lower teeth.

Lillian Reis Is Held For Court

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Lillian Reis, a one-time chorine and a local night club owner, was held in $1,500 bail Wednesday charged with assaulting four policemen outside the pretty brunette's home last Monday.

Held with Miss Reis on the same bail was Ralph Staino, floor manager for her night club.

Miss Reis, garbed in a luxurious fur coat, and Staino, who wore a wad of bandages over his scalp, stood side-by-side, in silence, throughout the 15-minute hearing. The courtroom was jam packed with 150 or more onlookers, many of them policemen, as the case came before Magistrate Elias Myers.

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP)—Iceland has ordered two Soviet diplomats out of the country, charging they tried to spy on the U.S. air base here.

The government said the two were exposed by a disillusioned member of the Iceland Communist party. The Soviet Embassy denied the charges against the second secretary, Lev Kisilev and an attaché, Lev Dimitriev.
